FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention

EDITORIAL BRIEFS

THEY say that Fred. Douglass is no match for French diplomacy in Hayti and that a positive necessity exists for greater agility and tact in that quarter. Wouldn't wonder.

ADAM FOREPAUGH, the veteran showman who died a few days ago, was game to the last. This is fully demonstrated by the sale of his vast circus and menagerie to an English syndicate just a few days prior to his death.

THE one and only reason that Southern Congressman are trying to legislate the colored man back to Africa is simply because they anticipate the power he will be in a few years. A power that is just as sure to come as the negro is to stay.

Now that Governor Foraker is laid up badly damaged, consequently not on the list for the Russian Mission, the president is expected to decide that question by appointing C. C. Harrison, of Philadelphia; while John Russel Young, it is said, will get his old place as Minister to China.

A RECENT traveler through the southern states says that the abject poverty and squalor of the poor whites throughout that country cannot be conceived by a northern man. The negro is far ahead both in civilization and enlightenment. And it is all because of the abominable laziness of the white,

THAT "American Tobacco Syndicate" with a capital stock of $5,000,000 has been organized in New York. The The stockholders are probably in New York and the South. The principal business will be in Newark, and it will be carried on in New York, in all the States of America, and Great Britain.

THAT grand old man Gladstone has evolved another epigram that the liberals of Great Britain, if managed by a wide-wake American campaign chairman, would post over all the dead walls. It is this: "It is the principal of Liberalism to trust the people qualified by prudence; it is the principle of Toryism to distrust the people, qualified by fear.

A CONTEMPORARY says Florida is becoming a close competitor with California as to fruits. If the orange be taken for the test, it can be said that California never approached Florida in the excellence of its fruit. There are certain fruits in which California excels, and mainly because she is an old fruit-grower, whereas Florida has only begun. By the time Florida is half as old as California she will be far ahead of her.

THERE are other places beside Bellefonte in which windows are painted to prevent girls from flirting with persons on the streets. Twenty-five girls who worked in a brass factory in Connecticut have struck because the foreman had the windows painted to prevent their flirting with men on the streets, and an exchange says "He was a nasty, hard-hearted, brazen-faced big thing to steal away the pleasures of the factory girls that way." Yes, rather a brassy business all around.

IT is asserted that Germany has supplemented the order excluding American pork from that market with one forbidding the importations of American canned provisions, and that the German agents in New York, taken unawares, are greatly stirred up. Our export trade of this kind will suffer a shock, and so will the German appetite which has been fed on canned food from America. Native German firms will hereafter have the contracts.

JOHN ERNEST MCCAIN, private secretary to Russell Sage, is a great admirer of Jay Gould, whom he describes as follows: "He is so very modest and unassuming, and he is such a great man. His voice as low and sweet as Annie Laurie's was. You will never hear him yelling harshly or offensively to his clerks, or to any one else. If he feels like doing that he won't have them around. But when he does become angry, look out! His anger is as deadly as the fangs of a rattler, and as quiet".

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan 25, 1890.

No more impressive funeral services have ever taken place in Washington over the remains of so young a man, than were those held over the late Walker Blaine on Saturday. The President, Vice President, the entire Senate and House of Representatives, (the latter having taken the very universal course of postponing the hour of meeting until 1 o'clock for the purpose of allowing the members to attend the funeral) nearly every prominent department official in Washington and quite a number of distinguished people from abroad. The death of this young man is a great blow to Secretary Blaine, he having been the only one of his sons that has shown either inclination or aptitude to follow in the footsteps of his distinguished father.

Secretary Windom's silver bill having been discussed by the cabinet, and approved by a majority of its members and the President, was to day introduced in the House by Representative Conger. It is understood that the entire influence of the administrations is to be brought to bear upon Congress in order to secure the passage of this bill. It has been referred to the House committee on Coinage, Wrights and Measures, and there is little doubt of its being favorably reported to the House at an early day. Whether what we know as the "silver men" in both parties will antagonize or support this measure is not yet apparent. Upon this depends its fate, for the 'silver men' usually ignore party ties when the time comes to vote on legislation affecting silver.

Senator Quay, as the official head of the Republican National Committee is understood to be anxious for the House to dispose of the World's Fair question at once for fear that it may have an effect, if still pending, on the vote in a number of contested election cases. For instance, if a sitting member has pledged his vote to one or the other of the rival cities, the members favoring that city will not be apt to vote to unseat that man. The point seems to be well taken. Many Congressmen express the opinion that if the question of location is not definitely settled before February 1, the idea of a World's Fair will be abandoned.

Ex-Governor Foraker was the principal witness examined by the House committee engaged in investigating the Ohio ballot-box forgeries, Friday and Saturday. He was followed by Wood, the man who furnished the forged document to Foraker, and who is believed to have been the forger or to know who is. He was followed to-day by Governor Campbell. So far nothing of importance has been brought out that had not already been published.

The whole rerating muddle in the Pension bureau has been stirred up afresh by the dismissal of A. A. Phillips of New York, chief of a division in the bureau, and one of the men who was rerated. The dismissal was made by Secretary Noble upon the request of Commissioner Raum. It is rumored that all the rest of the rerating clerks are to be punished, some by dismissal and others by being reduced in grade and pay.

Some busy body, for the want of something better to do, started an absurd rumor that Senators Plumb and Call were about to engage in a duel as a sequel to their exchange of bad language in the Senate last week. There is no foundation whatever for such a rumor, and there is reason to believe that both of them are heartily ashamed of themselves for having allowed their temper to get the upper hand,

The Senate Committee on Territories has reported favorably on the bill for the admission of Wyoming. A similar report would have been made on the bill admitting Idaho, but it was deemed best to withold that bill until the Supreme Court passes upon a case now pending before it which questions the constitutionality of the State constitution adopted by Idaho. The suitors was brought by the Mormons.

Everything is in readiness to issue a proclamation opening the lands of Sioux reservation in the Dakotas to settlement, but it may not be issued until Spring, as the President thinks there would be great suffering among the settlers if they should go there now.

The two republican Senators from Montana have presented their credentials to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Senator Plumb has secured the promise of the President to shortly issue a proclamation pardoning all deserters from the army.

The Immorality of Competition.

The cheapening of commodities by unrestricted competition has been the guiding idea of manufacture and of commerce, during the last half century. To get out of men the utmost exertion of which they are capable, for the smallest wages which they can be induced to accept, is very widely supposed to sum up the whole duty of an employer toward his "hands." We have forgotten that these "hands" are men. Well, I say, unhesitatingly, that to pit a destitute man against his destitute fellows, and to wring from his labor for the scantiest pittance to which he can be ground down, is wrong. The necessity of the seller does not make it just to underpay him. If I give him less than a just payment, an equitable price, for his work, I do in fact rob him. And this is at once the most common and the most disgraceful from the theft. The most common, for it is found in all departments of life; the most disgraceful, because it is the most cowardly. But the very notion of a just price has well-nigh died out of the popular mind, which sums up its code of commercial morality in the maxim: "Buy in the cheapest market and sell in the dearest." Freedom of contract? Good. But to constitute freedom of contract there must be parity of condition. What parity of condition is there between the replete capitalist and his starving "hand?"

Assuredly, nothing can be less reasonable than the regime of competition in support of which so many ponderous tomes of nonsense dignified as political economy have been inflicted upon a long-suffering world. The task which lies before the world is the re-organization of industry upon an ethical basis. The abuses of the old-world organization were manifest. They have disappeared. But the organization has disappeared too. The old fellowship of labor is a thing of the past. The new fellowship of labor is the hope of the future. The era is surely approaching when, in Mr. Herbert Spencer's happy words, "One man will not be suffered to enjoy without working, that which another produces without enjoying;" when what Mr. Mill justly calls "the great social evil of a non-laboring class" will no longer be tolerated: when the true answer to Soicialism, with its barbarous schemes for the abolition of capital, will be given by a vast extension of co-operation! That word is the key to a solution of the great problem. The introduction of machinery and steam, it is said has brought about the vast conflict between capital and labor. Machinery and steam! Change in economic condition! There is more than that in this disastrous and wasteful struggle. There is this: that our industrial system has been based upon competition while it should have been based upon co-operation.—W S Lilly in February Forum.

Johnstown's Compliment to Hastings.

The following numerously signed testimonial has been sent to general Hastings:

"GENERAL D. H. HASTINGS.

"DEAR SIR: The survivors of Johnstown and Conemaugh Valley have heard with pleasure the high commendations of the people throughout the State of your services here during the dark days succeeding the terrible disaster of May 31 last.

"Your prompt appearance in our midst on the day following the great disaster, your incessant and heroic labors in caring for the living and the dead, your unbounded kindness to the distressed, your firmness and coolness in the administration of duty, your modest and kindly demeanor to all have endeared you to our people.

"We wish you and yours God-speed and herein express the hope that your noble qualities of mind and heart may, in years to come find a fitting recognition, and may yours be a bright, happy, prosperous and successful one is our united heartfelt wish."

—The Lock Haven Democrat renders the following opinion of Hopkins: "Hopkins, the Phillipsburg double-murderer, now in Bellefonte jail under sentence of death and to be hanged on the 20th of February, acts very queerly and triflingly and in a manner that shocks the feelings of all who visit him. Whether he is so acting in the hope of making out that he is insane or whether he is merely a fool, is a question that is not yet decided.

ABOUT THE FARMER.

Patrons and Farmers:—Is the complaint that farming don't pay well founded? And if so, what are some of the causes, and can they be remedied by State or National legislation?

A year ago a farmer in the interior of the State realized $1.08 per bushel for wheat; now he can't realize more than 75 cents; a loss from last year's prices of 33 cents per bushel on his entire crop. Hay sold a year ago at $15.00 per ton; and now he cannot get within five dollars as much as then. Corn, cattle and pork can scarcely be sold at any reasonable price. Under this state of affairs what is the farmer to do? While he is going on in his Grange meetings, Farmers' Institutes, Boards of Agriculture. discussing how to increase his productions, some other classes are directing the trend of legislation to reap the profits of his labor. If the farmers in these meetings would agree not to take less than a fixed price of $12 or $14 per ton for their hay on track that would be the price throughout the State; and would those who attend the town market agree upon a fair price for their products before the opening of the market that would be the price for the day. We must cease listening to the twaddle of those of other callings (who would divert our attention), that we must double our productions to make our farms pay; but let us combine like other classes and fix the prices of our own products first in the markets that we can control collectively. Then those that are largely controlled by our goverumental policy, brought about by legislation in which the farmer could have a voice if he would. The best times ever known to farmers in the United States were from 1864 to 1867, when we had a currency of at least $50 per capita, when the farmer realized $2.00 per bushel for wheat, $1.00 for corn, 7 cents for cattle and swine, and other products proportionately high.

If our farmers would act intelligently and unite their forces in controlling legislation we could again bring back the condition most favorable to agriculture by finding some of our United States interest-bearing bonds in U. S. non-interest bearing demand notes, which have always been acceptable to our people. We could also demand the free coinage of silver the same as gold, which would build up our foreign export trade, which has been so clearly set forth by Mr. Ivan C. Michels, in the Silver Dollar, in which he so truthfully says:

Wheat, cotton and corn are the staple articles of our exports. Upon them rests the balance of trade for or against us, upon them rests also, more or less. the foundation of our prosperity.—Hon, Leonard Rhone in the Farmers Friend.

A Tribute to Letty Leech.

Good old Lettie Leech, of Milesburg, died on Thursday of last week. She was about 86 years old and had always lived unmarried. She was a devout member of the Presbyterian church, conscientious and full of christian love and charity. She died sitting in her chair just after breakfast, which she said "tusted so good." Some neighbor who was talking to her noticed her head fall forward and spoke to her, but no answer came and then it was seen that she was dead. Thus passed to the other world one of the best and most inoffensive of women, after a long life spent in the service of her Maker. She was buried in the Union cemetery in Bellefonte.—Lock Haven Democrat.

National Guard Inspections.

This order has just been issued from the Adjutant General's office: "During the months of April and May of this year there will be made by the Brigade Inspectors, under the direction of the acting Inspector General, at such time and places as the brigade commanders may designate, an inspection of the several organizations in their armories. When the companies of a regiment are located at difierent places transportation will be granted by the brigade commanders to one or more of the field officers of the regiment to attend said inspection."

Stephen Heaton.

Mr. Stephen Heaton, a brief notice of whose death occurred in this paper last week, died at his home in Howard township on Thursday evening, January 23rd. He was forty-nine years of age, and leaves a wife an six children, three boys and three girls, to mourn their loss. Mr. Heaton was a relative of all the Heatons in Centre county. His wife was Miss Harriet Blair, sister of Jerry Blair and the late Dr. Blair, of Unionville, Pa.

The funeral occurred on Saturday, the 25th instant, in the Howard cemetery. Rev. George E. King, of the M. E. church, preached the funeral sermon.

AN EXEMPLARY LEGAL PAPER.

The Will of the Late Hon. R. Milton Speer, as Recently Admitted to Probate.

The will of the late R Milton Speer, Esq., was admitted to probate on the 22d inst. It was written in New York on. June 27, 1887, previous to his departure to Europe. It opens as follows: "My will is that all my estate shall go to and belong to my children absolutely."

He charges his son William with an advancement of $3000 and his son Robert with an advancement of $1500, for their education. His daughter Maggie gets $1000 in addition to her equal share of the estate, and Mary and Victor are not to be charged with any advancement.

He directs that his executors put and keep in good condition the grave of his dear mother and relatives at Cassville, of his father at Fairfield, Iowa, and of his sister Margaret at Dwight Illinois, "I know I need not remind them of the duty they owe to their own mother whose life was one of devotion and sacrifice. It is my desire that my body sleep by hers. No question as to the expense needed for these sacred duties must be raised, and no child of mine will pause."

"I give my executors or the survivors of them full power to sell any or all of my estate, real or personal, at public or private sale, having entire confidence in their judgment and in their love for their brother and sisters. They, or the survivor, must not be required to give bail for the performance of any duty imposed by the will, and if it can be so arranged I desire that my household and home be not broken up until my daughters shall be permanently settled in life, and in the meantime the cost and expenses of maintaining the home shall be paid by my executors out of my estate."

"I appoint my two sons William and Robert executors of this will. I know they love their sisters and Victor, their younger brother. I commit much to their judgment and discretion and I want them to act in all things touching my estate as they believe I would act if living. I appoint my trusted friend E. S. McMurtrie testamentary guardian of my children Mary, Margaret and Victor. He is to give no bail, for he is an honest man. He will advise my executors and in all things will aid them in a just and quiet settlement of my estate. As guardian I hereby give him full power to expend such sums in the execution of his wards as in his judgment will be prudent. No account shall be demandable in court of his expenses.

"Children, love one another. This written in the Hoffman House, New York, June 27, 1887."

The witnesses were H. J. McAteer and George F. Gage.

—Joseph B. Thompson, a notice of whose death on the railroad we gave last week, was born in Union township, Centre county, February 22, 1858. His father is now at the Soldiers' Home at Erie and his mother was burned to death a little less than two years ago. He was an only child and was married in Centre county about eleven years ago to a daughter of Wm. Blowser who now lives at Vail. He was the father of five children, one of whom is dead and four living. He moved to Vail a little over six years ago and worked about two and one. half years for John Cook after which he went to braking on the mountain where he was always at his post and considered a reliable man. Last spring he was transferred to the Valley road where he had been up until the time of his death.

—Ex-Governor Curtin, of Bellefonte, and Ex-Governor Warmouth, of Louisiana, have been lying ill with the grippe at the Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, for a week. They occupy rooms close to each other and are having a race for health. Pennsylvania's venerable official sent down stairs for some cigars on Friday evening, and it was generally conceded that so far he is ahead of Gov. Warmouth. But all the same both the ex-Governors are out of danger.

IN MISS WILLARD'S DEFENCE.

A Correspondent Tells Some Facts in Behalf of Her Nativity and Actions.

Dear Sir:—An article in Monday's Daily News was not quite correct as to Miss Willard being a "Southern lady, endowed with Southern ideas." In Dr. Hyde's "Story of Methodism," page 430, is the following:

"Of them all, Miss Frances Willard is the foremost. She is a native of Rochester, N. Y., but was reared in Wisconsin and graduated from the Woman's college of the Northwestern university. In 1871 she became President of this college, and was professor of Aesthetics in the university when the woman's crusade began." And he also adds: 'Since the death of Wendell Philips, she is the finest orator in America. Her voice has been the most effectual of all voices in bringing to its present forwardness this one intense concern of the nation and century."

The W C T U under her wise leadership, has now become a power in every civilized country on the earth, and we believe we can safely follow a leader who, true to her principles, declares that "The good word, good will, and prayers (inasmuch as we have neither money nor votes to give) shall be with the party that puts forward prohibition as its primary 'issues." The following from the Union Signal, the national W C T U. organ, explains itself:

In response to many inquiries, it should be noted:

1. That the constitution of the National W C T U has never contained the words "non-partisan" and "non-sectarian,' hence these words have never been expunged therefrom.

2. That the National W C T U has always been organically non-partisan because it has never made the slightest partisan requirement of any state auxiliary or of any local union. The National W C T U was unwilling to put the limitations and restrictions upon its membership which the Iowa W C T U imposes, but preferred to leave every society free to express its opinions as to methods of securing prohibition according to its judgement.

3. That loyalty to the National W C T U does not mean that white ribboners must indorse the Prohibition party. In Iowa, where Republicans have declared for the "full and complete enforcement,, of the Prohibitory law, this would be clearly inconsistent. In Iowa, Dakota, and Kansas the W C T U lends its influence to the Republican party, because that party is loyal to prohibition, and the policy of the National W C T U has always been to stand by the party that stands by the home.

Fairbrook Still Alive.

Mr. H C Campbell has four men taking out ties. They seem to be getting a fine lot.

There are about two hundred men taking out paper wood near Faribook station.

Mr. Joseph Carter comes home from Stormstown every Friday to attend singing.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Esther Ewing, of Fairbrook, to Mr. John Gripp, of Tyrone, Nothing so popular at Fairbrook as the "Grippe."

Prof. J A Weaver was not able to meet his singing class on Friday night and the scholars turned it into a spelling bee.

Mr. Joseph Carter, of Altoona, is at home visiting his father, William Carter, of Fairbrook.

Mr. Thomas Gray took the Grippe at Sunday school but was able to get home.

The schools of this place will give an exhibition in about six weeks.

DICK.

To Be a Full Glass Front.

It has lately been reported that in the spring the Brockerhoff House was to be remodeled and made very handsome throughout. We were last night informed that such was the case and furthermore that the entire front on Allegheny street was to be made glass, the contract for the glass having already been given. This will make that already well built block one of the handsomest in Bellefont, and the best in many ways, as the location is the most desirable.

—We beg the forbearance of our correspondents for condensing their valuable contributions this week, but we plead as the reason the extra amount of Court report, and we feel certain that our blue pencil and scissors will this time be overlooked, as we promise not to let the same thing occur again.

Our Story Teller.

HIS BRAVERY WASTED.

'Fire! Fire!' was the cry, and the farmer and his wife and all the summer boarders roused at the sound, rushed toward the scene of the conflagration.

'Lucky the widow Dunham and her daughter are on a visit,' said one of the boarders as they came in sight of the blazing cottage.

The men worked hard and saved most of the furniture, when Horace Butler a young man who boarded in a neighboring house, ran wildly toward them, crying out that there was a girl on the kitchen roof.

'She is standing there almost surrounded by flames and moaning and wringing her hands. Where can I get a ladder.'

'It must be Miss Dunham,' said the farmer's wife. 'Oh, do save her, Mr. Butler!'

'I'll save her or perish in the attempt,' replied that gentleman, as he rushed away for the ladder.

But the ladder when found was too short. The woman on the roof, whom every one now saw, utterly refused to jump, though six men held the featherbed and promised her that she should meet with no injury. The excitement was great, and the whole upper part of the house was in flames.

'No use, no use now boys,' said the old farmer. 'The gal could save her own life if she would. You'd only risk your own life if you went up them blazin' back stairs now. I'd do it myself if there was any chance of helping, but there ain't any.

'What! Leave a woman die unaided?' cried Harris Butler. 'Are we such cowards as that? I am not at least.'

He dashed toward the entrance of the kitchen. The flames drove him back. He clung, grasping for breath, to the cherry tree. A thought struck him. In an instant he began to climb the tree. The flames stretched out their arms toward him. As he went from branch to branch his clothing was scorched and his hands blistered, but he persisted. At last he gained the long bough that lay on the kitchen roof, and swung himself from it upon the ladder. It cracked and trembled beneath him, but he gained his footing, and peered through the smoke for the woman. There she stood, and now he saw why she had not obeyed the cries from below—why she had not jumped down into the rescuing arms of those beneath.

She was bound fast to an upright pole that had been the standard of the national flag. Ropes were about her waist, about her arms What a tragedy lay revealed! The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, and murder his object.

'I say! Look out! The roof is falling!' cried the farmer from below.

Harris Butler was feeling for his knife: 'All right," he shouted. 'I'm coming.'

As he spoke he found the knife and cut the bands, and a senseless form fell into his arms. It was so inanimate that he could scarcely believe it was not dead already, but clutching it tightly, he staggered to the edge of the roof, and jumped. Fortunately he landed on the feather bed, and those who held it managed to drag it to a safe distance from the falling wall, not one moment too soon.

The next, all that was left of the Widow Dunham's house was a pile of burning timber.

The rescued woman lay face downward on the bed. Kind hands helped Harris Butler to rise. His hair was singed and his whiskers burnt off; his clothes were like old flat-iron holders. He was choking with smoke, and black from chin to brow; but more than one of the good old ladies of the place kissed him, and everyone wanted to shake hands with him, All the little boys shrieked huzzas, and Butler felt that had he died he would have been a hero.

'But don't mind me,' he gasped; 'bring her to. I found her bound to the flagstaff. Murder was evidently intended. Heaven knows it might have been done. Poor girl! poor girl! poor, dear girl!'

Who laughed? It was that horrible creature, the new hired man. Old Grandma Giles and old Aunty Potter had turned the rescued maiden upon her back, and had ejaculated something; then a crowd had gathered about her, and that wretch laughed.

'No doubt he did it,' whispered two fair summer boarders to each other; 'he looks like a brigand.'

But now others were joining in the laugh.

'What was so ridiculous? What was so absurd?'

Harris Butler turned his scorched face toward the laughing group and asked this rather fiercely, and the answer came from that hired man, Silas Drew:

Can't help it, mister; can't help larfin if I died for it. You was nation brave, mister, but you throwed it all away. This here ain't no young woman; it's the skeer-crow me and Ebenezer helped Mrs. Dunham to stuff, to keep the birds out of her cherry-tree. It's got Mrs. Dunham's old merino gown on, and an old bonnet and a false face; and I tied it to the flag-staff myself last June. S'pose she didn't keer to take it down, or forgot it. It's too funny. You must excuse me a larfin; I can't help it.'

'It's no laughing matter. Mr. Butler risked his life at all events,' cried the summer boarders who most detested Silas Drew; but the rual mind saw the matter in an amusing light, and all solemnity vanished. A few days after, Harris Butler, with his hair cut short and his whiskers shaved, returned to the city; and still by their winter firesides at Pine Hall do farmers tell the story of how 'one Butler risked his life to save the Widow Dunham's scarecrow, and how he felt so sort o' cut about it that he went straight hum.'

THE HEROIC ENGINEER.

BY HARKLEY HARKER.

'That was a brave deed. The engineer is dead I hear.'

'Yes, his body lies in yonder car. I was talking with the noble fellow just as he stepped on the engine that night at the Providence depot, said my old friend, himself also an engineer.

The morning papers briefly mentioned the fact that "an engineer on the boat train last night sacrificed his own life, and thereby saved the entire train load of passengers from destruction,' The article would have been longer and the head-lines more conspicuous had it been a case of scandal in a church or the fall of a bank cashier. This difference is not the choice of the newspaper makers. Good deeds are not 'taking' news in the smacking sense that bad deeds are. The crowd is hungry for carrion. The newspaper must sell to the crowd, or it does not pay. The crowd is not heroic. A heroism is a rebuke to the crowd. It seems to say, "You could not have done that, you are too selfish. You would have jumped off the engine and saved your mean life.' So the crowd casts the idyl of a great soul's majestic deed aside. The crowd turns to the story of some Sunday-school superintendent's embezzlement; while reading that the crowd can rub its hands and say, 'Shocking! We would not have done that. Yet we make no professions.'

'But I think any one of our passenger engineers would do the same thing, sir,' resumed my friend. 'I know them. Pardon me, I have been one of them for five-and-twenty years. You see the drivers of express trains are selected men, picked and culled to get the best. They are sober, cool, nervy, very intelligent, and of extensive experience. They are very often men of finer fiber than some of the officers of the road. A fellow often gets to be an officer because he is cousin to a director or nephew to the president. But that rule doesn't work in the cab of a through night express.

The gray-haired knight of the throttle invited me to ride down the next twenty-two miles with him. There was no opportunity for convereation, as we leaped forward into the mist and darkness of the night. The ponderous mass of living metal, with a heart of fire and a spirit as invisible as my own, bounding over the snowy earth till my whole nervous system was concentrated in my eyes. Yet I could see nothing, scarcely. The flash of the head-light flew on, bravely five rods before us, like a wizard's smile; it actually made the ghoulish gloom more intense and fearful. The hot breath of the monster, as its red throat was fed with fuel, burned my very eyeballs, till I attempted to shield them by holding up a newspaper. But I could not effect anything, for I needed both hands in a clutch on the springing seat. Those blood like spots on the face of the night, the red signal-lamps, dashed by us and faded like a dance of meteors. Ah, the jar, the clangor, the clash of switches, like a passage of men at arms, swords upon shields.

Suddenly the driver waved his hand to me through the lurid light and pointed out of the window.

'It was just here, I'll tell you' he bawled, 'all about it when we stop.'

The story he told me when we stopped was this:

During the great March blizzard the old man was off duty. He was sitting, that Monday evening when the hurricane broke upon New England, at the bedside of his dying daughter.. A messenger toiled through the snow with a request from the president of the line, 'As a personal favor, would he run an engine down to the State capital to take the president to the bedside of his dying daughter.' The coincidence was itself ominous and striking. The high official and the old engine driver were each afflicted in the perilous illness of a beloved daughter. The president of course was ignorant of the engineer's family trouble. The two young men had long been personal friends. They were boys together years before, in the same country town. One had inherited wealth, had been afforded an education, and so had risen to fine social and commercial standing. The other, poor born, loving his maching as he loved nothing else except his home and his family, had been perfectly content to rise no higher than to be the pet, the pride of the line as the noblest engineer they have.

'Well! such a request! and, mind you, it was a request, and not an order. The president knew that if any one had the nerve to drive a machine into the teeth of that gale, I was the fellow. Somehow I seemed to forget myself. I just put myself in his place. I kissed my sweet little Mollie, and in twenty minutes was on Number Twenty-seven, and the president with me. It was a tough three hours going twenty eight miles, but we did it. I landed him in season, too. He was with his daughter when she began to get well. I was struck in that cut that I pointed out to you for a whole day, within sight of my house, but bless you, you couldn't get over those two miles unless you had been a spirit, and while I was sitting there, you can guess how I suffered. I must have been looking directly at the windows when my precious little Mollie—God pity me!—passed away. She was just eighteen years old, and most beautiful.'

The old man wrung my hand. I got down from the cab and went back to my sleeper, feeling none the less secure because so real an old hero sat by the throttle-valve for my protection.

I also knew a conductor who left his home to take the Boston Express through and his youngest son sick with scarlet fever, during that very storm. For a week the tortured father never heard a word of tidings. But in this case the little sufferer recovered. The faithful wife never left the boy's bed.

The wife of a railway man must needs have many of the fine characteristics of the sailor's wife. The father much away, the children bear her imprint. And I take it that the world does not sing half poetry enough about the wives, and children, and mothers of railway men, who often sit by the window and in stormy nights and tempestuous days. When a crash robs them of the brave breadwinner's right arm, how little we think of all the sorrow. They are rarely rich. Suffering is sure to follow. But the God, who gives his servants their lot in life, does not forget the brave, the obedient, and the true. How rarely do you hear of such a man's boys turning out badly. A good angel watches over the girls. The widow's bowed head is lighted by the sunbeams that grateful prayers call down; for not all passengers forget the debt of gratitude for safety.

New York Weekly.

Mecca of the South.

The special personally conducted Pennsylvania Railroad Florida Tours have formed the theme for so many conversations with those who have through their medium, visited the South's mecca, as well as others now contemplating the trip, that their familiarity with the traveling public simply makes it neccessary for the company to announce the date of each departure to insure the "specials" limit, one hundred and fifty persons.

The luxury of traveling in a train composed of Pullman Vestibule, Sleeping Drawing and Dining Cars, with the watchful and constant attention from the accompanying Tourist Agent and Chaperon, meals en route in both directions free from a cruisine renounced, and the privileges of a two week's sojourn south included in the $50 price of tickets from New York and $48 from Philadelphia, needs no comment, so liberally does it appeal to lovers of comfort and luxurious travel. The second tour left Broad Street Station January 21st, and upon its arrival at Jacksonville, the sun bronzed passenger of the first tour will board the train for home. The departure of the third of the series is fixed for Tuesday, February 4th, a time of the year when southern travel is heaviest. Itineraries, details, and all information can be had at the Pennsylvania Railroad ticket offices, or by direct communication with S W F Draper, Tourist Agent, 205 Washington Street, Boston.

A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in Childberth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness' swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians everywhere as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out: it will save you great pain, and possibly your life. The mourning worn by Sarah Bernhardt since the death of her husband is made after her own design, and is therefore eccentric, but it is a style that will be in vogue before the end of the season.

A WIFE'S SAD SUICIDE.

The "Sweet Child Actress" Enacts Her Last Role on Earth.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART.

The Fatal Act Inspired by an Insane Jealousy of Her Husband—She Coolly Played Cards and Wrote Letters Before Shooting Herself.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Beautiful Jesse Dean Reynolds, the actress, enacted her last role in tragedy by shooting herself through the heart at her home at 948 Ninth avenue. She was the wife of William R. Reynolds, an electrical expert in the employ of the Automatic Fire Alarm company, 294 Broadway.

Mrs. Reynolds was a very handsome woman of the blonde type. Her complexion was creamy and her features beautifully molded. She was about 5 feet 7 inches in height and weighed 150 pounds.

They were married a little over five years ago and have had three children, two of whom — girls—are now living. Robbin, their first born, is buried at Rahway, N. J., where Mrs. Reynolds was born twenty-eight years ago. When she was less than 10 years of age she began playing juvenile roles, and became known throughout the country as the "sweet child actress." Before her marriage she was always known as Jessie Glassford, her baptismal name.

Love at First Sight.

It was on one of her western tours that Jessie met her husband. He joined the company in which she was playing in a Kansas town, and ever afterward as long as she remained on the stage he played with her. Their love was a sort of a first sight affair. The first day they met they admired each other, and time cemented a love which, indeed, was blind. Two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds concluded to leave the stage, and, securing employment in this city, they settled down into an ideal home life. They were very happy at first, and the little children which blessed their union were like rays of sunshine in their home enjoyment.

Her Jealousy Begins.

About a year ago Mr. Reynolds went to work for the Fire Alarm company. Then their trials and troubles began. Oftentimes his business required his absence from town and, although Mrs. Reynolds was very well aware his absence was necessary, she always became insanely jealous. She had forebodings that he would meet some other woman, and at times her grief and despair were terrible. A few months ago, when Mr. Reynolds was about to start for Waterloo, N. Y., on business, his wife was seized with a fit of jealousy which equaled in intensity any previous attack. She declared then that she would throw herself over Niagara falls.

The First Attempt.

A few hours previous to his departure Mr. Reynolds missed his wife. He became alarmed and visited all the neighbors, making excited inquiries. She was nowhere to be found. As a last resort the fond husband went to the Grand Central depot, and there in a corner of the ladies' waiting room he found his wife. She had on her traveling wraps, and in her hand was a ticket she had purchased for Niagara. After many entreaties and considerable persuasion the troubled husband induced his jealous wife to give up her suicidal intention, and together they returned home.

Her Mind Made Up.

For several days past Mrs. Reynolds has been unusually obliging to all who came in contact with her, and to her husband she has been particularly gracious and sometimes very mysterious. It was only yesterday that he asked her if she wanted a certain article, to which she replied: "Yes, dear; but after to-morrow I won't need it."

At the time of these remarks Mr. Reynolds had not the slightest suspicion of the hidden meaning of the peculiar replies. Early last evening, and while her husband was reading, Mrs. Reynolds wrote several letters, addressed and sealed them and placed them in her breast.

Her Last Game of Cards.

About 11 o'clock her brother came in with a friend, and a game of casino was proposed and played. Then several games of whist were played, and finally they retired for the night.

Once last night, during the game, Mr. Reynolds remarked to his wife that the cards were getting thick and hard to handle. To which she replied:

"Well, we won't require them after to-morrow."

The Fatal Shot.

Mrs. Reynolds allowed her husband to retire first, and when he had closed his eyes she slipped out of the room to where her babies were sleeping, kissed them fondly and passionately, and with her eyes suffused with tears returned to her room, took a revolver from the bureau drawer and while standing in front of the mirror fired a ball into her left breast. The bullet pierced her heart, and without uttering a word she died.

The report of the pistol aroused Mr. Reynolds, and as he sprang horrified from the bed he saw his wife reel and fall prostrate on the floor. Repeated calls for help brought the dead woman's brother to the terrible scene, and he was at once dispatched for Dr. Robinson, at 402 West Fifty-eighth street. When the doctor arrived life was extinct, and he could be of no service.

Then Mr. Reynolds for the first time saw the letters which his wife had written early in the evening. They were on the bureau. One was addressed to himself, and the other to her father, Andrew Glassford, who is this week playing at a Brooklyn theatre. The one addressed to himself read as follows:

Her Letter to Her Husband.

DEAR HUSBAND—You told me to-night that you would not grieve when I am dead. I am glad. I do not wish to cause you any grief. Bury me with little Robbin; not by him, but with him. I wish you to give Marco [her eldest daughter] my marriage certificate and bracelets, and Jessie [her last born] my wedding ring and little silver watch, when they shall become old enough to understand. Give Susie my desk and Eliza all my books and the two little water sketches. All the rest, if you will, I would like mother to have. If your mother does not take charge of the children—it is her duty to do—I would like Eliza to have them. All is forgiven and will soon be forgotten. Good-by forever. JESSIE.

Mr. Reynolds talked freely of the sad affair. "We were very happy," he said, "until Jessie began to be jealous. Then she made us both miserable. She never had any cause to be jealous, and why she was so I can't tell. Once she noticed a new key on my key ring, which I've never been able to account for. It served to make her madly jealous, and once she said it was the key to some woman's room. Since then she has been insanely jealous at times. I always spent my spare time away from business with my family, and never was so happy as when with them."

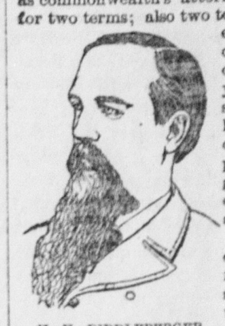
RIDDLEBERGER DEAD.

The Ex-Senator Passes Away After a Long Illness—Sketch of His Life.

WOODSTOCK, Va., Jan. 25.—Harrison Holt Riddleberger, ex-senator, died at 2:30 in the morning, after a long illness. His death has been expected for several days. His family were present when he died.

Harrison H. Riddleberger, of Woodstock, was born in Edenburgh, Shenandoah county, Va., Oct. 4, 1844; received a common school education and had a home preceptor for two years; served three years in the Confederate states army as second and first lieutenant of infantry and as captain of cavalry.

He was a lawyer by profession, and served as commonwealth's attorney of his county for two terms; also two terms of two years each in the house of delegates, and one term of four years in the state senate; since 1870 he had been editor of three newspapers, the Tenth Legion, the Shenandoah Democrat and the Virginian.



H. H. RIDDLEBERGER.

He was a member of the state committee of the Conservative party until 1875; was a presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1876, and the same on the Readjuster ticket in 1880; in 1881, while commonwealth's attorney and state senator, he was elected to the United States senate as a Readjuster, in the place of John W. Johnston, Conservative, and took his seat Dec. 3, 1883. His term of service expired March 3, 1889, when he was succeeded by John S. Barbour, Democrat.

Few men in this day and generation have thrown away such political opportunities as ex-Senator Riddleberger, of Virginia. There was a time when he could have made himself a powerful factor in the politics of his state, but owing to his habits of life and his failure to grasp the situation, he threw the opportunities away.

About 1876 the agitation of the debt question commenced in Virginia, and Riddleberger came to the front a few years later with a bill which afterward passed through the combined efforts of what was then known as "Readjusters" and the Republicans. Mahone was the political leader of the new party, and his excuse for leaving the Democrats was the debt question, but in reality he was mad because he failed to receive the Democratic nomination for governor in 1877.

When the alliance that was formed between the Readjusters and Republicans became strong enough to control, Mahone was sent to the United States senate, and two years later Riddleberger got the other senatorship.

It was not until 1884 that Mahone declared himself a Republican in politics. He had before that claimed to be a better Democrat than Ben Hill, of Georgia. Riddleberger had broken with Mahone in the meantime, and was in a position in 1885 to have slipped right back into the Democratic party. The Republican senators captured him, and as long as his vote was needed in the senate he was humored, but when it was not needed the young man from Virginia was squelched, as will be remembered in connection with his arrest and removal from the senate chamber for boisterous and unparliamentary language.

Two Roman Catholic Bishops Dying.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 25.—A letter has been received from Bishop James A. O'Connor, dated St. Augustine, Fla., stating that his health is failing rapidly and that he never expects to see Omaha again. The bishop has been in failing health a long time, and went to St. Augustine from Omaha about two months ago in the hope that he would recuperate in that climate. Bishop O'Connor is well known throughout the country as one of the prominent figures in the Catholic church.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 25.—The Right Rev. John C. Neraz, Roman Catholic bishop of the diocese of San Antonio, is seriously ill and not expected to live many hours. Bishop Neraz is over 60 years of age, and as a churchman has control of the entire state of Texas.

Acknowledged His Guilt.

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., Jan. 25.—Andrew Newland who with Henry Guinap is charged with an attempt to wreck the vestibule fast express on the Omaha road a few miles north of here, has made a full confession. The crime was committed on the morning of April 10 last. Newland was arrested a month ago and Guinap was captured in St. Lawrence county, New York, a week ago. In his confession Newland said that he and Guinap planned to wreck the train and in the excitement of the moment rob the express car and passengers. When the attempt to wreck the train failed they fled. Guinap was arraigned and pleaded guilty to the charge. Newland waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court.

A Rumored $6,000,000 Failure.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A rumor is circulating in Wall street and among the various commission houses that a $6,000,000 failure has occurred in Buenos Ayres. At the London and Brazilian bank here the rumor was not denied, but the officials would not disclose the names of the firms in this city who were directly interested. It was learned at some of the commission houses that if the rumor was true it would seriously affect some of the shipping houses in this city.

An Aristocratic Waiter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Miguel Tinoco, who comes from one of the noblest Spanish families in Central America, and who was once one of the most prominent and wealthy planters in Guatemala, was discovered serving as a waiter in the Occidental hotel here. He was recognized by an old friend, ex-President Bernardo Soto, of Costa Rica. Tinoco was supplied with funds, and will leave for his former home, where he has wealthy relatives.

Tried to Murder Him.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 25.—An attempt was made to murder John Price, engineer of the city postoffice. Price had just left his house on his way to the office when he was set upon by two men who beat him with clubs until he was insensible. The assailants were frightened off by an approaching pedestrian, and Price was carried to his home, where he lies seriously injured. No arrests have yet been made.

Short in His Accounts.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 25.—E. W. Burkes, ex-cashier of the Santa Fe road, is short in his accounts several thousand dollars. He has left for parts unknown.

INDIANS AROUSED.

The Settlers in South Dakota May Have Serious Trouble.

THEY ARE READY TO FIGHT.

The Redskins Declare That They Are Not on the Warpath, but Will Insist on Their Rights—Troops Drive the Settlers Back.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 25.—Trouble has broken out between the intending settlers on the "mile square" and the Indians and half breeds of the reservation. The latter, anticipating the immediate opening of the reservation, have moved in large numbers on the frontier, and are cutting all the wood around the Red river and the Missouri and hauling it back into the lands they intend to take up according to the terms of the Sioux bill.

The settlers objected to this, and an attempt was made by them to stop the Indians, and for awhile it looked as if there would be a serious battle.

Declare They Will Fight.

Troops were immediately dispatched across Bad river and immediately drove the settlers back to the space allowed them. The Indians, though not on the war path, declared that they would fight for their rights.

The Northwestern officials, with their chief engineer, are running lines across the river and surveying the famous "mile square." They now declare that they intend to hold it, according to the 1879 treaty with the Indians. The interior department has a special agent here who will attempt to arrange the difficulty between the settlers, the railroad and the half breeds.

The Players' Schedule.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 25.—The schedule committee of the Players' National Ball league is in session here. The schedule has been arranged up till August, but is subject to a change. As it now stands there will be 140 games, the season opening the week of April 21 and closing the first week in October. Pittsburg will open the season at home with Chicago; Boston will play in Brooklyn; New York in Philadelphia, and Cleveland in Buffalo. The holiday games have been arranged as follows: Decoration Day, Pittsburg at Brooklyn; Chicago at Boston; Buffalo at Philadelphia; New York at Cleveland; July 4, Brooklyn at Pittsburg; Boston at Chicago; Philadelphia at Buffalo; Cleveland at New York.

Grave Charges of Corruption.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25.—The grand jury has been engaged in investigating the charges of corruption made against certain members of the municipal assembly. One of the charges is the alleged distribution of $15,000 among members of the house of delegates for the passage of a bill granting a franchise to the Rapid Transit Railway company. It is claimed that one member took $15,000 from a safe deposit box which he had previously seen placed there. There are a number of similar cases awaiting action, and a number of prominent citizens have been notified to appear and testify. It is said that Governor Francis will be summoned as a witness.

Yale's Department of Music.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 25.—At a meeting of the Yale corporation it was voted to establish a department of music, and Gustave J. Stoeckel, for many years musical instructor at Yale, was placed in charge. The department will be styled the Battell professorship of music. A fund amounting to nearly $300,000 has been placed at the disposal of the university, and the plan provides for the erection of a suitable building and the employment of several instructors.

Fell Into a Boiling Tank.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 25.—At the veneer works here, John Gibson fell into a tank filled with logs and boiling water, and was scalded so badly that he died at 9 o'clock. Andrew Killeen and George Kingsnorth, in attempting to rescue Gibson, fell into the vat and were scalded so badly that they may die.

Future Napoleons of Finance.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—It is reported on the board of trade that the settling boys of B. P. Hutchinson, by a series of cross trades made on a certain broker, have swindled him out of $100,000.

ALBANY NEWS.

The World's Fair Bill Ordered to a Third Reading in the Senate.

ALBANY, Jan. 25.—The World's fair bill was ordered to third reading in the senate and referred to the special World's fair committee, with instructions to report it next Wednesday. There will be a hearing on the bill at 3 o'clock next Tuesday.

Mr. Saxton's ballot reform bill was reported back by the general laws committee with amendments. It was ordered that the bill be printed and given a final hearing on Wednesday next. In addition to the amendments already published there is one further, providing that when a candidate dies after the printing of the official ballots, unofficial ballots may be used.

In the Assembly.

ALBANY, Jan. 25.—Mr. Sheehan moved that the rules of the assembly be suspended in order that he might introduce from the floor the World's fair bill introduced in the senate today by Mr. Stewart.

Mr. Sheehan urged the immediate passage of the bill, saying that New York might lose the fair unless the bill became a law by Monday.

The rules were suspended and the bill was introduced and read by the clerk.

After the reading of the bill Mr. Sheehan moved that it be considered as having had its second reading.

Mr. Andrews objected. He moved that it be made a special order for Monday, so that a full debate might be held.

Mr. Sheehan moved that the bill be considered a second time, printed and put down for a third reading Monday night.

Mr. Fish sustained the objection of Mr. Andrews.

After further debate the bill was made a special order on its second reading Monday night immediately after the reading of the journal.

Among the bills introduced in the assembly were the following:

By Mr. Dempsey, appropriating $1,000 for improving the Depuyster street bridge in Rome.

The cities committee reported Mr. Sheehan's bill reducing the interest on warrants for local improvements in Buffalo.

HIS SKULL WAS BROKEN.

Calvin Meyer, of Linden Hall, Falls From a Cross Loft and Breaks His Skull.

On Tuesday evening the at all times quiet little village of Linden Hall was thrown into a fervor of intense excitement by the startling announcement being made that Mr. Calvin Meyer, a young man perhaps 35 years of age, had fallen from the cross loft in his barn to the threshing floor and was killed. When the full particulars of the sad affair were learned they were about as follows :

Mr. Meyer was, with his brother, farming. On Tuesday evening he had gone up on the cross loft, it is supposed, to throw down straw or feed of some kind and the boards covering the sleepers not being laid secure, Mr. Meyer fell through, falling a distance of about 18 feet to the threshing floor beneath. His skull was broken and he lived but a short while after.

The deceased is a second cousin of District Attorney J C Meyer, of this place. He has several brothers one of which is Prof. Philip Meyer, the music teacher who last week held a convention at Boalsburg. Calvin Meyer was a most exemplary and christian young man. He was a member of the Reformed church. His untimely death will be greatly lamented by his many friends.

The funeral will occured on Friday at the house at 9 o'clock.

The Bellefonte Hanging.

Clinton county's excellent sheriff, Mr. Leahy, thinks that he will probably go to Bellefonte on the 20th of February to see what sort of a job Sheriff Cook of that county will make in the suspension of the murderer, Hopkins, from the gallows. Sheriff Leahy's management of the Shaffer tragedy here was first class in all respects, and if the Centre county sheriff can get along with the disagreeable duty that will be his perform on Feb 20th, it will be a matter of satisfaction and congratulation to everybody concerned. Sheriff Leahy hopes that he may not be obliged to execute anybody else during his term of office, which has almost a year to run yet. The presence of our cool-headed sheriff in Bellefonte on that momentous occasion cannot fail to be of great encouragement to Sheriff Cook, especially if the latter is in any degree nervous.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Will We Have Cholera Too?

Some able medical authorities say that the cholera, now prevalent in Southwestern Asia and Southern Russia, is following in the wake of la grippe, and that the world should be prepared to fight a cholera epidemic next year. In view of this fact it is said that the city of Paris has already begun to clean up. Other medical authorities assert, however, that the cholera which followed la grippe in 1837 was merely a coincidence and that was the only time it was ever known to follow it, although grippe has been a frequent visitor. So there is no special cause for alarm, but the best way to prevent the coming of the cholera or any other disease, in fact, is to be always prepared for it. Let everybody at all times keep their premises clean and healthful.

An Appeal Taken.

The papers in the appeal to the Supreme Court on behalf of Charles Cleary from the judgment and sentence of the Court of the County of Clinton, were filed this morning, and the case will now go to the Supreme Court of the Easton District. Deputy Prothonotary J A Wensel, visited Cleary in his cell for the purpose of taking his affidavit, and found him lying upon his cot apparently very comfortable. He inquired gruffly of Mr. Wensel what he wanted, and when informed what the nature of his visit was he sprang to his feet and at once became interested in the matter. The case will not be likely to reach the Supreme Court at its next session.

—This week the Centre Hall hotel will have a new landlord. The retiring landlord, D J Meyer, has kept this well-known stand for upwards 15 years, and in all that time there has been no cause for complaint, as the house, in every respect, was kept with a view to violate no law, and to give the guests of the house the best entertainment, and in this mine host has entirely succeeded. Mrs. Meyer, too, has proven a model landlady, and she and her department will ever have a pleasant remembrance with all who were her guests.

Dr. E E Higbee Memorial Fund.

A committee has been appointed, of which M G Brumbaugh is President, and M J Brecht, is secretary, to solicit and receive contributions for the purpose of erecting a monument to the memory of Dr. E E Higbee, late State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The committee has set apart Friday, January 31, as a day to be duly observed as "Higbee's Memorial Day," and on that day it is desired that collections be taken up in every school in the State. It is desired that this collection will aggregate 1 cent for each scholar and 10 cents for each teacher. It is a worthy object and should receive bountiful aid from all.

THE NEW TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.

The non-partisan temperance women are to be congratulated on the auspicious results of their State Convention. They effected a strong and efficient organization, and are now prepared for Christian temperance work pure and simple, and entirely free from party politics, or political alliances of any kind whatever. The name of the organization, "Woman's Christian Temperance Alliance," will be subject to the approval of the National Convention, which is to assemble in Cleveland this week. The ladies who have been installed as officers are well and favorably known throughout the State, and their zeal and activity in the good cause have been too long attested to admit of question or doubt.

The Philadelphia Press which has been paying some attention to the personnel of the convention, says it "contained within itself the elements which go to make a great moral force in the State and Nation." There is no doubt of this. The organization will have a wide field of usefulness before it, and its endeavors will not necessarily clash with the work of any other society. The promotion of the cause of temperance in the line of Christian duty, and apart from all other purposes, and an object grand enough to engage the undivided efforts of the noblest and most selfsacrificing of women, and the new society will have the best wishes of all who have hopes for the ultimate redemption of the race from the evils of the rum traffic.

Birthday Surprise Party.

On Tuesday, January 21st, 1890. Mr. J. C. Smith, of Howard township, was just 73 years old. His aged wife, who was formerly a Miss Gardner, thought it would be nice to give her venerable partner in life a pleasant surprise and accordingly she went to work with all the zeal and vim of a young girl, and made every preparation, preparing a grand dinner and inviting in his friends

When the day and the hour came about 25 persons sat down to a well-spread table that bore evidence of the great accomplishment of Mrs. Smith as a first-class cook, and which was such a temptation to the hungering appetites of many, and especially Mr. Smith, as to induce him to wish he was younger that he might more fully partake of the bountiful repast set before him. As it was, however, he could be no younger and so he was revenged on nature by partaking very heartily even at his advanced age. But the dinner was enjoyed not alone by himself, but by all who sat around the tables.

Of the children of this aged couple there are seven living, four daughters and three sons as follows : Mrs. Sallie K. Smeltzer, Mrs. Frank Confer, Mrs. Jeff Moore, Mrs. Hayes Schenck and, Messrs Valentine, Mitchell and Linn Smith. Of the children all the daughters were present at the dinner and one daughter-in-law, Mrs. A V. Smith, of Bellefonte.

Mr. Smith is a farmer and does nearly all his own work and is yet as active as many a man of 50 years of age. May he live to enjoy many more such pleasant occasions as the one held on last Tuesday.

Death of Jackson McDaniel.

Jackson McDaniel, colored, died at his home in this place, on Friday evening at 9 o'clock. Mr. McDaniel was generally and favorably known by everybody in Bellefonte as a kind and intelligent citizen, and his death will leave a vacancy that will be hard to fill.

The deceased was born in Hagerstown, Md., and came to this place about 18 years ago. During all these years he lived in the family of Mr. E C Humes, until but a few months ago, when he was compelled to retire on account of sickness. He was forty years of age. Mr. McDaniel was married to Miss Thamazine Green, who now survives him. He united with the African M E church in early life and besides being a consistent and faithful member was one of its most prominent supporters. He was an honest, conscientious man and few were better prepared for a departure than he.

The funeral of Mr. McDaniel will occur tomorrow, meet at the house at 2 o'clock p. m. From there the funeral cortege will proceed to the A M E church where services will be held by the pastor Rev. C H Brown at 2.30 o'clock. The interment will be made in the Union cemetery on Howard street.

TO ADVERTISERS!

How to Get the Most Service for the Money!

The Advertiser who would be willing to pay twenty-five cents for every family who could be "educated" up to the value of his goods would thus devote $3,000,000 to educate the 12,000,000 families which make up the 60,000,000 of the United States. This sum would do the business thoroughly in a year, for it is sufficient to pay for the insertion of a full column in every issue of every publication, and for resetting the matter, making it new in every issue of each separate publication. We will receive and execute the contract.

$5,000 One of the most successful Advertisers we ever had always ordered his advertisements in this way, "Get the best service you can for me for $5,000," leaving every detail to us. We were thus enabled to say to a Publisher, if you put this in at a large reduction from your rate it will be no criterion for further transactions. It was a surprise to find ourselves so often able to contract for the insertion of that particular advertisement at half rates, in papers which would not permit us to OFFER their columns at a penny's deviation from a printed schedule. The advertising rates of one New York paper are double those of another which has twice the circulation of the first. Similar discrepancies are not uncommon. The advertisement intrusted to us to be placed in accordance with our judgment often does double service for half the money. A dollar for twenty-five cents.

$1,000 If we are given authority to insert advertisements to a limited amount, in such mediums as ofier inducements which seem to us specially favorable, we shall not abuse the confidence reposed in us, and shall render statements of whatever is done (if anything) from day to day. When TRUSTED with the placing of an advertisement, we are put upon honor, and are bound in honor to give the best service possible for the money to be used.

$500 Leading Newspapers, especially the leading Agricultural Nswspapers, frequently issue large special editions (of twenty, fifty, a hundred, or even five hundred thousand copies,) and eslicit advertisement orders from us on terms which would often be accepted by our patrons if there was time to invite attention to the matter; but the question must generally be decided before there would be time to write and receive a reply, and often the caso cannot be fully stated within the limits of a letter.

$250 Prepare a small advertisement and send with check for $250, or any other sum. The practice of asking the Agent to name his papers in advance compels him to name such as are well known, otherwise there is reason to suspect that his judgment is biased;—and the best papers do not like to have their rates quoted below their schedule.

$100 The advertiser who sends his advertisements asking for the best service possible for one hundred dollars, will often get from five to fifty per cent more service for his money, than he would had he required us to tell him in advance exactly what service we would promise; for when an estimate has been given its plan and specifications must, in a general way at least, control the advertising to be done: It ties the Agent's hands and prevents his giving his patrons TO-DAY a better service than he could have promised yesterday, because yesterday the opportunity had not presented itself: to-morrow it may have passed! Some publications are used more economically on contracts for a single issue; in others insertion for a month may be had as cheaply as for a single week but in furnishing an estimate in advance, if the Agent attempts to go into details, his correspondence becomes voluminous and the advertiser confused.

$50. If you are in the habit of occasionally inserting a small advertisement in a few papers, investing a few dollars and carefully noting the result; we desire you to make trial of our Advertising Bureau, sending us the advertisement and the money, leaving the selection of the papers to us, and judging of the service rendered by results rather than by names, circulation claims or prices. To make up careful estimates calls for much work. It don't pay to make them indiscriminately for every applicant. If such estimates as are asked for were always given the Advertiser who wished to expend $50 would frequently find himself in posession of a scheme which it would cost $500 or possibly $5,000 to carry out.

$10. We devote all necessary care to placing small orders for Advertising:—even the smallest! Time is saved by sending check with the order. Often the Advertiser is not possessed of sufficient information on the subject to enable him to judge of the merits of an estimate for advertising, and he decides by the footings of the figures whether he will or will not do the work. Yet the estimate binds the Agent and makes it improper for him to make any variation in its specifications, however much his judgment may point to material changes which ought to be made. This is specially liable to be the case when the order comes a considerable time after the estimate was made.

Monserville on Deck.

Scarlet fever is raging in Lemont.

S. Craft, the royer, visited friends here last week.

Jacob Jackson, who has been traveling over Clearfield county, is at home to spend a few weeks with his parents.

Mr. Samuel Boal was around calling on friends last week.

Mr. George Cronmiller, who has been prospecting for ore on his farm, has at last struck it rich. Two shafts have been sunk to a depth of 20 feet. In one ore of the best quality was found and George says it is a six foot vein.

Several intoxicated young men of Lemont created quite a disturbance at the M E church there on last Saturday evening. Boys you had better be careful or you will get your names in the paper and yourselves in the jug.

Master Frank Mayes, who recently had his arm broken, is able to be around again,

Mr. Foster Frazier is visiting friends in this vicinity.

On last Sunday evening Mr. Levy Rhone was thrown from his horse and slightly injured.

Mr. James Reyman, of Pennsvalley, visited friends in this place recently.

Some of the sportive young men of this place talk of renting the town hall for a ball room, and others, who are not quite so sportive, are terribly opposed to it. Dancing has met, at all times, with strong opposition; but it has gradually overcome its opponents, to such an extent that they are now but few, and belong only to those classes of people who oppose everything that makes life cheerfull. Even in the oldest histories in the world we find recorded the fact that the best and greatest of men and women were in favor of this recreation, and indulged in it as a benefit to their mental and physical health at all convenient opportunities. All persons, whatever may be their condition in society, are desirous of being in the possession of strength, activity and physical beauty; there are very few who do not wish to unite these three qualities with elegance of carriage and deportment. Nothing can render the frame more graceful than dancing. Very many members of the medical profession concur in recomending dancing as an excellent remedy for a number of diseases; at any rate it is a harmless amusement for young or old.

SHORTY.

The Silver Problem.

The silver problem, as the WINDOM bill has brought it forth, is discussed from many points of view, no two writers agreeing. The report that English financiers are contemplating a policy similar to WINDOM'S in some of its main features, tends to give support to our Secretary's ideas. The "problem" is giving rise to questions regarding which both sides may be equally sincere, and equally wise, as one views their arguments. Experience only can determine. Financial experts are divided regarding it. The discussion has only begun, however, with a growing tendency, it is probable, to side with the Secretary's ideas. As a question of policy it undoubtedly appeals to the disposition which always exists to try what appears to be based on progressive ideas.

—It would seem from the multiplicity of murderers recently brought to Bellefonte that such an event would lose its fascinating attractiveness for most people, but it is not so. On Tuesday evening there was a larger crowd in waiting at the depot to see the latest criminals brought in, than ever before assembled on any previous occasion. Fully one thousand persons were in waiting, but it was only through curiosity and not for any other intent or purpose.

—The fifteenth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Blair county Banking Co., was held at their Banking office on Juniata street yesterday afternoon. The old board of directors and officers were re-elected. The stockholders of this Bank are men of means and individually liable. Its officers are courteous and accommodating, while its management is safe and conservative. Some of the members are residents of Bellefonte.

—Peter Jackson, the Australian pugilis, who wants or pretends to want to fight Sullivan, has arrived in New York, dressed in full English style. Sullivan will give him a chance for $20.000. Whether Peter's friends can raise that amount of boodle remains to be seen.

—Robbins and dandelions, spring lamb and wee chicks seems not to be enough for Centre county, and on Tuesday night a large forest fire raged on the side of the mountain west of Bellefonte. Forest fires on the 28th of January, just think of it.

JANUARY SESSIONS.

any time. Wyland came up and separated the men. Never struck Campbell.

Cross-examine—Never said I would do him up. I saw Gross strike Campbell but did not see any kicking done. I did not tell Wyland to stand back. Wyland parted the men.

Wm. Wyland testified that Campbell had told him "Fatty" Gross had kicked him. Did not see any of the fight. Defense rests. Will E Gray summed up for the defense after which District Attorney Meyer made his plea, for conviction, Judge Furst charged the jury and it retired.

ANDREWS ON TRIAL.

The jury in the Beck assault and battery case brought in a verdict of guilty in manner and form as indicted. The judge announced the next case as that of Commonwealth vs. Alfred Andrews, charged with murdering Clara Price, and ordered the Sheriff to bring prisoner into court.

Andrews was brought into the court room at 9 o'clock looking cool and unconcerned. He nodded to acquaintances and shook hands with his counsel, Spangler and Chambers.

Andrews stood up while Prothonotary Schaeffer read the indictment, charging him with the murder of Clara Price, on November 27th last. He plead "not guilty" and demanded a trial before God and his country. The empanelling of the jury began.

P W Barnhart, farmer, Boggs twp. Have no prejudice against prisoner. Have no scruples against capital punishment. Have read newspapers account. Have formed no positive opinions in the case. I could judge by testimony. Challenged.

David Beighdol, farmer, Liberty twp. Have formed no opinion as to the guilt or innocence of Andrews. Have no prejudice against him. Have read some about the case in the papers, but they did not bias one. Not challenged.

Wm. M Adams, teamster, Milesburg, Have formed and expressed opinions regarding Andrews. Have read of the case Have nothing against the prisoner. Opinions might interfere with finding verdict according to evidence. I think I would be biased by what I have read, but also think I could give a true verdict according to the evidence. Challenged.

J D Ritter, carpenter, Philipsburg. Have formed or expressed no opinion in case. Am not biased against him. Have read of the case but have formed no opinions from such readings. Am not opposed to capital punishment. Not challenged.

Henry Hale, laborer, Julian, Huston township. Have formed and expressed no opinion in Andrews case. Am not biased for or against him. Have read the county papers, but have formed no opinion therefrom. Have not discussed the case, but have heard it discussed. I can determine from the evidence alone as to the guilt or innocence of prisoner. Not challenged.

Wm. Dawson of Bellefonte. Have formed and expressed opinions in the case. Think I could give fair verdict from evidence. Am not biased for or against prisoner. Have read the papers. Do not favor capital punishment. Stood aside.

Reuben Colyer farmer, Potter. Formed or expressed no opinion in case. Have no scruples against capital punishmeat. Have read about the case in county papers. Not challenged.

Geo. Martz, gentleman, Lemont, College township. Have formed and expressed an opinion in case, to certain extent. Have read county papers, and drew my conclusions from them. Think opinions would have no influence in determining the case according to evidence. Am not biased for or against capital punishment. Not challenged.

Robert McKnight, Superintendent Bellefonte. No bias. No opinions. Object to capital punishment for 20 years. Challenged for cause.

William Resides, farmer, Union township. Formed or expressed nothing definite in regard to case. Have talked case over. No impression as to guilt or innocence of Andrews. No scruples against capital punishment. Don't know any of the parties in the case. Challenged.

Edward Stump, farmer, Potter township. No bias. No opinion formed or expressed. No scruples against capital punishment. Have read a little of the case, but have formed no opinion from that reading. Know none of the parties in case. Not challenged.

George W. Hoover, lumberman, Philipsburg. Formed and expressed opinions regarding case. The opinion is not so fixed as to influence me from determining from the evicence. Think I could go by evidence alone, but have some doubts. No scruples against capital punishment and doubtful whether I could render verdict according to evidence for I have formed opinions. It would require strong testimony to remove doubts. Challenged for cause.

Robert Cooper, mine boss, Snow Shoe. Formed no opinions and am not biased. No scruples against capital punishment. Stood aside.

G B Stover, farmer, Haines twp. Formed or expressed no opinion. No bias for or against Andrews. Have read papers. Challenged.

Geo. Flick, farmer, Huston twp. Formed or expressed no opinion. No bias, no scruples against capital punishment. Have heard the case discussed. Know none of the parties. Not challenged.

Isaac Underwood, lumberman, Gregg twp. Have formed and expressed no positive opinion in regard to the case. Have read of the murder and have an impression but think it would not prevent me from rendering a verdict according to evidence. Have conscientious scruples against capital punishment. I belong to society of Friends. Challenged for cause.

Isaac Armstrong, hotel keeper, College twp. Have formed and expressed an opinion regarding the prisoner. Am not biased. No scruples about capital punishment. Think my opinion would not influence my consideration of the evidence. Challenged.

Jacob Frantz, farmer. Worth township. Have formed or expressed no opinion. Have no prejudice or bias. No scruples against capital punishment. Know none of the parties. Not challenged.

Wm. Peters, blacksmith, Milesburg. Have formed or expressed no opinion in case. No bias or prejudice. Have no conscientious scruples against capital punishmeat. Stood aside.

Wm. Meyer, miller, Miles township. Have formed no opinion in case. No prejudice or bias. No scruples against capital punishment. Challenged.

G. D. Armbruster, carpenter, Gregg township. Formed no opinion. No bias. No scruples against capital punishment. Challenged.

Cyrus Durst, farmer, Harris township. Formed no opinion. Am not biased against prisoner. No scruples against capital punishment. Challenged.

Ed Woods, clerk, Bellefonte. Formed opinion in case. Think it would not influence me. Read county papers. Know none of the parties in the case. Challenged.

John G Bailey, farmer, Ferguson township. Have formed opinion in the case, but think it would not influence me in judging from evidence. Have read the papers. Challedged.

H R Curtin, iron master, Boggs township. Formed an opinion from reading the papers. Do not think it would influence me in determining case from evidence. No bias. No scruples. Challenged.

A. J. Stover, farmer, Haines twp. Formed no opinion in case. No bias, No scruples regarding capital punishment. Have read about the case. Challenged by defense.

Charles Neff, merchant, Boggs twp. Have formed opinion from what I have read. No bias. No scruples against capital punishment. Think my opinion would not influence me in determining the case from the evidence. Challenged by defense.

Reuben Lucas, laborer, Howard township. Formed and expressed an opinion regarding the prisoner. Think I could judge by the evidence regardless of opinion. No bias. No scruples against capital punishment. Not challenged.

Wm. Lytle, farmer, Half Moon. Have formed or expressed no opinion, no bias. No conscientious scruples against capital punishment. Have read about the case in papers. Not challenged.

Peter Robb, Jr., farmer, Curtin twp Have formed an opinion. Think the opinion would not influence me in determining the case from the evidence. No bias, no conscientious scruples against capital punishment. Challenged by defense.

H S Comer, laborer, Milesburg. Have formed no opinion. No bias, no conscientious scruples against capital punishment. Challenged.

H K Miller, farmer, Spring township. Formed no opinion. No prejudice or bias. Have conscientious scruples against capital punishment but think they would not influence me. Stood aside.

Emanuel Musser, laborer, Haines township. Formed no opinion. No bias. No conscientioas scruples against capital punishment. Not challenged.

Reuben Colyer was challenged by commonwealth,

W H Noll, merchant, Spring township. Have formed no opinion but have made statements regarding case from what I have read. Think I could judge by evidence alone. No bias. No conscientious scruples against capital punishment. Not challenged.

The jury was now complete and Tipstaves Beckwith and Morrison were put in charge of the men.

The jury was sworn as follows:
David Beightol, farmer, Liberty twp.
Cyrus Durst, farmer, Half Moon.
Reuben Lucas, laborer, Howard boro.
Emanuel Musser, farmer, College twp.
W H Noll, merchant, Spring twp.
Wm Lytle, farmer, Half Moon twp.
Geo Flick, farmer, Hutson twp.
J D Ritter, carpenter, Philipsburg.
Edward Strump, farmer, Potter twp.
Geo Martz, gentleman, College twp.
Henry Hale, laborer, Hutson twp.
Jacob Frantz, farmer, Worth twp.

The court then instructed the jury in the duties which they will be called up on to perform and warned them to have no communication with outside parties during the progress of the trial.

NOTES

Reporters are almost as thick as lawyers. Col. Dunham is representing the Keystone Gazette; Chas. Kurtz, the Centre Democrat; H. U. Tibbens, the DAILY NEWS, George Meek, the Watchman; W. Cann the Philipsburg Journal; E. C. Tuten, the Altoona Tribune, George Bush, the Associated Press, and James Hughes the Philadelphia Press and other papers.

The same men who served as tipstaves during the Hopkins trial are serving again this week, and the result is a very quiet and orderly court room.

Ex-Judge Orvis, assisting the Commonwealth, looks worn and played out, but it is evident that he will rise to the occasion, physically, before the trial is over.

There are about fifty witnesses on this case and the prospects are for a full four days' trial.

—Did you ever see a more lovely day than yesterday? It was simply perfect as a June day could have been, and, instead, it was only the 28th of January.

—The DAILY NEWS not only gives a full report of the court proceedings but also gives all the news that transpires up to the hour of going to press.

—The house being put up on East Linn street for Mrs. Hagerman is now being raised and it will not be many days more until it will have assumed a houselike appearance.

A READABLE BUDGET.

After Two Weeks of Silence Snow Shoe Bobs Up With More Interesting News Than Ever.

We always know that James Mastello
Was a very quick and nimble fellow,
On Wednesday last he made things jingle,
When he saw the smoke come through the shingle,
Without a hat—in slippers and socks—
He jumped through the roof like Jack in a box.
And then with the aid of his neighbor, John Marks,
He quickly disposed of the surplus of sparks.

Feeling somewhat exhausted from the effects of the grippe, Grandmother Crissman, a few days ago, lay down to rest. On hearing some unusual sound she opened her eyes to see what was the matter and was perfectly astounded to see a strange doctor standing near, making preparation to administer medicine. With great coolness he concluded the preparation of the dose which he insisted on her taking, pretending that he understood her case exactly, The lady became alarmed and called in a neighbor, and together they succeeded in getting him out of the house. The preudo doctor was badly under the influence of liquor.

Mr. William Toban, one of Snow Shoe's nice young men, has just recovered from a three weeks siege of Messrs grippe and pneumonia.

Miss Lizzie Batterlee has been elected organist of the Presbyterian Sunday school.

The choir of the Snow Shoe M E church will hold a grand concert in the near future to raise a fund to purchase books and music, of which they are very much in need.

Wilbur Holt drove to Snow Shoe on Friday evening to get his moustache trimmed. Charley Roth, the barber, says it is very hard on scissors to trim such a heavy beard.

T B Budinger has just received a car load of No. 1 hay.

Mike Bordner, the Hungarian who was shot and killed last Thursday, left Snow Shoe about one year ago and returned here when the coke ovens started up, a few months ago. He was a worthless, shiftless, drunken fellow, always getting into trouble of some kind. He was not a vicious or dangerous character, but when he got drunk would make a nuisance of himself, and on several occasions has been put out of stores just on that account. He boarded with John Statchick, an uncle of the man who shot him, and who declares that there never was any ill feeling between his nephew and the unfortunate victim. They had been drinking and enjoying themselves all day. Finally they commenced shooting mark· Bordner put his hat on some brush and Statchick fired at it twice but failed to hit it, when the hat fell down. Bordner replaced it then stepping a few feet to one side, turned his back to Statchick and called out to shoot him. No sooner said than Statchick fired and Bordner threw up both hands, fell to the ground, and in ten minutes he was dead. Statchick assisted in carrying him into the house and then started for a doctor but has not been seen since. Mike Bordner was buried in the Catholic cemetery on Saturday afternoon. He was a married man, his wife and children are yet in the old country, and, of course have not heard of his untimely end.

Jacob Kiosky, aged 16, son of William Kiosky, died on Saturday, the 18th inst, after a few weeks illness. The funeral took plack on Monday at 10 o'clock a m. He was buried in the Catholic cemetery.

Mr. D G Davis, who moved to Punxsutawney a few months ago, has returned to Snow Shoe. He reports the great strike at that place still unsettled, and he will now work in his machine shop at this place until the strike is ended.

Mrs. Emanuel Casher died on Monday, the 20th instant. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, interment was made in the Askey graveyard. Mrs. Casher was quite an aged lady and had been in poor health for a long time.

Mr. James L Sommerville and family have moved to Winburne. They will be missed very much by the Presbyterian church and Sunday school at Snow Shoe.

W A Lathrope, the genial superintendent of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, visited Snow Shoe last Thursday.

Sheriff Cooke came to Snow Shoe last Tuesday and surprised several of our citizens by serving a notice on them to appear at Court and settle a bill for reviewing a road near Sugar Camp, for which they had petitioned several years ago. Your correspondent is of the opinion that the bill for reviewing that road should have been paid by the township. The entire expense was only $42 00 and now the cost will doubtless be many times that amount. This is an imposition and unnecessary cost on the people of Snow Shoe.

Miss Bertha Leathers, who teaches the Holt school, near Moshannon, spent Sunday with her Snow Shoe friends.

Hipple and Viehdofer are busily engaged sliding logs. They say if they could have two weeks of cold weather they would get through very nicely.

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company has brought suit against John MaDill, Wm. Reside, Henry Craskey, and E. A. Walker for the tract of land, in Snow Shoe township near Cato, where the parties named were putting in a drift for the purpose of opening coal mines. Constable Henry Montgomery, of Bellefonte, drove out on last Tuesday and stopped all operations. As soon as viewers are appointed by the Court Mr. MaDill will resume operations.

A Prominant Lady Visiting in Bellefonte

Miss. Isabella G. Shortlidge, of Concordville, Delaware Co., Pa. is visiting the family of her Cousin, William Shortlidge.

Miss. Shortlidge spent last week in attendence at the meeting of the National Non-partisan W. C. T. U. which met at Cleveland, Ohio, of which she was chosen financial secretary.

This was the first convention of the non-partisan W. C. T. U. There were two hundred and seventy two delegates, representing thirteen states.

The ladies who compose the membership of the non-partisan W C T U refuse to follow the lead of Miss Willard and ths other ladies, of the old organization, who are trying to keep up the third party movement to aid the Democracy. Miss. Willard is a southern lady endowed with southern ideas and it is very surprising that she can find northern ladies who are disposed to follow her lead for the sole purpose of aiding the democracy. She visited the White House during the Cleveland administration knowing that liquors were served at the dining table of the presidential mansion, notwithstanding which she had no word of disapproval to make, which proved her inconsistancy.

Howard Happenings.

Clarence Cooke, the champion lumberman, is at present stocking John Hagen's mill. Clarence understands his business.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kane are the happiest parents in Howard. It is a daughter.

Mr. Hayes Sehenck expects soon to occupy his new house which, when entirely completed, will be classed among the best residences in Howard.

The post office fever is running very high at present in this vicinity. We have not yet learned who is to be the lucky man.

The grippe is no respecter of persons, all are visited alike. There is scarcely a family in this borough and vicinity that has not been visited by this unwelcome caller.

An Opera House for Bellefonte.

The Lock Haven Express says: "A Mr. Garman, of Bellefonte, who contemplates building a place of amusement in that place, was in the city a few days ago inspecting our new Opera House. Mr. Garman was much pleased with the appearance of our play house and proposes to pattern after it in many respects. The main auditorium will be on the ground floor with a stage forty feet in depth. W. F. Wise, of Tyrone, who fitted up our hall has the contract which is an assurance that Bellefonte will have a place of amusement second to none in the interior of the state. It will be ready for opening early in the fall. Let the good work go on.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is Peculiar to Itself

Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine,

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Personal Pencilings.

William Buck of Eagleville, this county, is visiting his many friends in Williamsport.

Mr. J. W. Hartsock, of Buffalo Run, was in Bellefonte Thursday and called at this office.

Mr. Reuben Crust, a farmer living in Spring township, dropped in to see us on Monday.

Mr. R. H. Downing, of Half Moon township, is serving his country as a juror this week.

Mr. W. Cann, is in Bellefonte to represent the Philipsburg Journal at the coming murder trial.

Mr. George Bush put on his best bib and tucker on Friday evening and went to attend a dance in Tyrone.

Miss Jessie Saltsman has been teaching school for a few days past, in the place of a grippe laidup- teacher.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. M. W. Cowdrick, of East Linn street, who has been ill for several weeks, is now rapidly convalescing.

Mr. W. F. Reeder was in Huntingdon this week on professional business. Mr. Reeder is one of Pennsylvania's brightest young lawyers.

Mr. H. U. Tibbens, of Brisbin, arrived in Bellefonte on Wednesday evening and will associate with his friends here for a week or more.

Some time since Aaron Williams, Esq., was called to Richmond, Ind., to see a sick relative, but he is now back in Bellefonte, ready for business.

Mrs. Jane C. Hoover, of Julian, was in Bellefonte on Wednesday and favored our sanctum with a visit. We are always glad to see the ladies come in.

Miss Maggie, oldest daughter of Treasurer Cyrus Goss, returned home on Saturday from a week's visit spent with relatives in the vicinity of Pine Grove.

Mr, George S. Keller and Mr, Herman Baird, both of Houserville, and Mr. Jerry Walters, of Filmore, were callers at this office on Wednesday afternoon.

P. Gray Meek was in Philadelphia on Thursday, going there from the State Convention at Harrisburg which elected Kisner as State Chairman for another year.

Mr. Wike, telegraph operator at Gorton Heights, is in Bellefonte as a witness on the Andrews trial. Mr. Wike is a young man with a very promising future before him.

Mr. Samuel Goss, of Rock Springs, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday and made a very pleasant visit to this office. Mr. Goss is one of the oldest and most respected residents of Rock Spring.

We are glad to hear of Ex-Governor Curtin's complete recovery from his recent attack of the influenza, and that he will soon be able to return from Philadelphia to his home in this place.

Dr. E W Hale still continues on the sick list and on Wednesday evening was not so well as he had been although his attending physician says it is nothing serious. The Doctor is able to be up.

Master Charles Ardell, son of Mr. T A Ardell, of Julian, is in Bellefonte stopping at the home of his uncle, Mr. John Ardell, Jr., on East Linn street, and is attending school at the Bellefonte Academy.

Mr. Hugh Taylor, Jr., with Clarence Tate and Charles Taylor returned on Thursday evening from Northumberland county where they were engaged for several weeks, by the Logan Machine Works of this place, putting the steam heating apparatus in a large business block. They will go on Monday to another locality in the same line of business.

Mr. Cameron Burnside was at the Continental Hotel, in Philadelphia, on Thursday and the Times of that city designated him as "the grandson of Simon Cameron, and one of the brightest lawyers in Bellefonte." Even metropolitan papers make mistakes sometimes, as Mr. Burnside makes no pretense to being a lawyer.

It is rumored that the supply of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is not equal to the demand. Druggists should prepare themselves for all emergencies as the people rely on them for this remedy.

No preparation could have made such a reputation as Salvation Oil has, without intrinsic merit of the highest order. It kills pain. Price 25 cts.

—On Friday evening, of last week an Assembly ball was held in Pruner's Arcade, Tyrone, which was largely attended by persons from far and near. Those present from Bellefonte were Mr. and Mrs. John Lane, Miss Minnie Brew, Messrs. Joseph Montgomery, George Bush, Harry Bush, W. P. Brew and J. R. Rose. In every particular the ball passed off pleasantly and no one present would have been willing to miss such a rare treat.

SOME grocers are so short sighted as to decline to keep the "IVORY SOAP," claiming it does not pay as much profit as inferior qualities do, so if your regular grocer refuses to get it for you, there are undoubtedly others who recognize the fact that the increased volume of business done by reason of keeping the best articles more than compensates for the smaller profit, and will take pleasure in getting it for you.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and Insist upon getting it.

IN MEMORIAM.

A Brief Sketch of the Life of J. Fleming Montgomery.

Mr. J. Fleming Montgomery, who died at the old Montgomery homestead in Howard, this county, on Friday, January 24th, at 12 o'clock at noon, was buried in the cemetery at Jacksonville to-day. The hour for meeting at the house was eleven o'clock and after a short service, the funeral cortege proceeded to the above named place where interment was made.

Mr. Montgomery was born in 1824 and at the time of his death was 74 years, 4 months and 24 days old. His father's name was Joseph Montgomery, and Fleming, as he was familiarly called, was the oldest of a family of four boys and two girls. Both sisters and one brother preceded the subject of this sketch to the great beyond and two brothers, Wm, aged 69 years and who is now in very feeble health and Augustus, an insurance agent at Howard, still survive.

In the early years of the history of Centre county the Montgomery's were widely known, being one of the first and most widely connected families in the county as well as one of the first in business. Joseph Montgomery, the father of these boys, in 1818 erected a tannery in Howard which was the first one built and operated in Centre county and which was carried on very successfully for many years, and the ruins of which is now an old land mark of the Montgomery homestead. Joseph Montgomery was married to a relative of Judge Burnside, the first, and sister of the late General Fleming, of Williamsport, Pa.

Fleming Montgomery was never married, his 74 years of life being spent in the full enjoyment of single blessedness, and in all these 74 years he spent but two years away from the place of his birth, all the balance being spent in the house in which he was born and in which he died.

In religion the deceased was a strong adherent to the Presbyterian faith and doctrine. In politics he was a staunch and hardworking republican. He was known far and wide as the connections of the Montgomery family extended over a half dozen counties. He was universally liked and his death will be greatly lamented. Peace to his ashes. He has but gone from the experience of a ripe old age to enjoy an experience of which angels sing praises.

Of a good housewife, who uses SAPOLIO, it is well said, "The mouse is muzzled in her house." Try it and keep your house clean. All grocers keep it.

Cleanliness and neatness about a house are necessary to insure comfort. Man likes comfort, and if he can't find it at home, he will seek elsewhere for it. Good housewives know that SAPOLIO makes a house clean and keeps it bright. Happiness always dwells in a comfortable home. Do you want cleanliness, comfort and happiness? Try SAPOLIO and you will be surprised at your success.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The Grave Gets Tired Yawning.

Seemingly, for certain wretched invalids who toddle along, though always looking as if they were going to die, but omitting to do it. They dry up, wither, dwindle away finally, but in the meantime never having robust health, know nothing of the physical enjoyment, the zest of that existence to which they cling with such remarkable tenacity. They are always to be found trying to mend by tinkering at themselves with some trashy remedy, tonic or "pick me up" to give a fillip to digestion or "help the liver." If such misguided folks would resort and adhere to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters it would be well with them. This superb invigorant supplies the stamina that the feeble require, by permanently reinforcing digestion and assimilation. It overcomes nervousness, billiousness, malaria, kidney complaint, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia.

If "a numerous household is the safety of the Republic," it might as well be proclaimed at once, that the remedy upon which such household should be reared is Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup.

A good cathartic is worth its weight in gold, yet Laxador, the infallable regulator of the human system, is sold for only 25 cents a package.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Novel Styles in Combination, Evening Trimmings, Furs, Coiffures, Spring Furnishing.

New costumes of rich material, now show peculiarities that have already been noticeable in gowns of less expensive fabric. In both, there is a combination of handsome striped silk, in the former class with solid colored velvet, satin, peau de scie, or heavy silk, in the latter, with plain wool and in one as the other a distinguishing feature appears—that of a seam directly down the front of the skirt, the sides of the two meeting breadths being sloped away so as to bring the stripes together with Eiffel Tower effect. Frequently the dress is completed by a waistcoat of silk to match the front breadths while the remainder is of plain goods. Such idea has brought about or perhaps the result of new princesse dresses where the uniting of two materials is marked by a line that divides back from front, all of one fabric on one side and all of the other on the opposite. Happily such penitentiary like disposition is modified by the sleeves which made usually in some full shape, are of the brocade with touches of plain goods. Bias seams up the front of plaided skirts have for some time imparted special chic and in the future, this innovation will be played upon considerably, as it is comparatively novel.

HAIR DRESSING.

The hair is generally arranged in opposite extremes—either very high or low and in the latter case may hang in long braids caught together by a ribbon or ornament or where the hair curls naturally, it may once more be allowed to flow as nature intended it with some small confining below the nape of the neck. High arrangements give more opportunity however for the wearing of jewelled ornaments or flowers, while the liberty of late prevailing in dress, forbids too close following of any particular edicts, and those who prefer it, wear a low braid or coil or classic arrangement with fillets of gold, silver or jewels, ribbons or entwinings of small flowers are very much used for evening dresses but of course are more suitable to light fabrics than in heavy toilets where brocades come in with floral effect. The absured fashion of fur trimming for evening, shows no abatement and for the Opera, a light fluffy boa about the neck, is indeed a protection and can be thrown off or drawn closer at will. Mrs. Cleveland who appears frequently at the Opera, sometimes avails herself of the warmth and becomingness of a light, fluffy boa. To a

who whishes to know, the answer is given that cordings on dress waists are being used again and in time, their employment may become general. At present, in combination costumes, they are made to produce contrasts as where plain portions are corded with brocade or vice versa. To the same correspondent, we reply in favor of Clark's Mile End spool cotton, which for the purpose designated, is often used in place of sewing silk, because as smooth, strong and elastic. Coming in black, and new colors, it is adapted to new materials and is in great demand for the making up of white goods. A housekeeper wishes some hints on for Spring. New styles show a marked tendency toward light colors and ash, hazelwood and white enamel are especially popular. Hazelwood is a novelty as hitherto it was unavailable because warping so easily. Of late however, a new process of seasoning by extreme heat, has obviated such difficulty and very attractive chamber sets are made of it. Hazelwood, which is imported from Cuba, is a shade lighter than French gray. An inexpensive and pretty addition to bedroom, sitting room or parlor, can be made by taking an ordinary split bottomed chair, painting it white, gilding the knobs, making a cushion for seat and back, of flowered silk in gay colors and tying in place with colored ribbons. Picture frames are also in white and gold, silver gray and ash. A pretty design shows a delicate gilt vine on a white surface.

VERNON CLARKE.

HER HUSBAND A WOMAN.

Last summer a young "man" claiming to be a descendant of the great Hungarian family bearing the name of Vay, established himself at the Hotel Sandwirth, in Klagenfurt, Hungary, with his sister.

He led a life that harmonized with aristocratic origin, and, his resources not seeming to suffice for his expenses, he borrowed of the hotel keeper sums which the latter dared not refuse.

He charmed every one by his distinguished manners and the elegance of his life. After a time the Count Sandor Vay went to establish himself near Reifnitz, on the Wærthersee. At Reifnitz he made the acquaintance of the owner of a beautiful villa and his family.

The seductive influence which he exercised over every one whom he approached was such that the report was slow in spreading that he inspired a violent passion in one of the proprietor's daughters.

The report was true, and it was followed by a marriage which made many jealous. But soon there came an unexpected change in the brilliant gentleman's style of life. Increasing embarrassments succeeded to reckless expenditures, and the Count Vay was obliged to ask his father-in-law for various sums to enable him, he claimed to obtain a lucrative position as secretary of an insurance company, for which a heavy bond or deposit was required.

Later, the father-in-law found that there was no truth in the story, and he had his son-in-law arrested for swindling. The Count Vay was interviewed in the prison of Klagenfurt.

But it is at this point that the most curious features of the affair appears. The legal investigation revealed the fact that the prisoner was a woman, and that her marriage had been blessed by a false priest who was simply an accomplice of the pretended Count Vay. The case has made a great sensation in Hungary and Austria.

Tormenting Skin Disease.

For twenty years I was troubled with a tormenting itching skin disease, which at times caused me great annoyance, and loss of sleep. I was treated by the best local physicians, but received no relief from them. I finally concluded to take Swifts Specific (S. S. Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. Kings New Life Pills, Bucklin's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitter's, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. W C Keplinger & Co. Druggists.

THE DISEASE AND THE REMEDY

The South is agitated over the 'social question' as it relates to the negro there. The subject of the 'war of races,' is in nearly every one's mouth and one would naturally suppose that the killing off of one race by the other was the only solution. There is nothing of the kind in the case. The solution is simple. It is in the civilizing and Christianizing of the races—the white as well as the black race. There has been little trouble between the races anywhere that has not grown out of the want of civilization and Christianity, and frequently as we are compelled to say, the want has existed most on the side of the whites. No Christian man fairly civilized—the paradox is admitted—will band with others to lynch a negro in a land where the machinery of the law is in running order.

If it is not in running order it will be found owing to the original cause—the want of civilization. Therefore the race trouble in the South—anywhere in fact—calls for Christianizing and civilizing efforts. A good beginning would be the creation in the North—everywhere—of the spirit that would in every way and at all times frown upon the treatment of the negro by the whites in the South. That would tend to reach those whites who know the good but practice the evil, and are backed up by the unchristianized and uncivilized white masses in many parts of the South—the very parts where only the lynchings and other brutalities occur. Here lies the cause and this is the remedy of the alleged "race war" in the South. According to the extent that Christianity and civilization exist in any part of the country will law and order prevail and citizens be secure in all their rights.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F M Shrout, Pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: 'I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My Lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well gaining 26 lbs. in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: 'After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, beats them all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many friends is to urge them to try it.' Free trial bottle at W C Keplinger & Co's Drug Store. Regular sizes 50c. and $1.00

Sorely Afflicted.

Frank Peters and wife, of West Decatur, near Philipsburg, are among those who have been sorely afflicted and are greatly to be pitied. On Sunday, Jan. 5, Howard, their eldest child, a fine boy of 9 years, died of diphtheria, and on Wednesday of last week, the 15th inst, their little daughter Lizzie died of diphtheriatic croup and in the evening of the day their other little boy Frank died of the same malady. Truly a most mournful case of sorrow and bereavement.

THE GYMNASIUM WAS OPENED.

On Friday Evening at Eight O'clock and Crowds Flocked in to See it.

On Friday evening promptly at eight o'clock the double doors of the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasiums were thrown open and young men and maidens entered to view and inspect the interior of the new building and the apparatus with which it is fitted up, and, as is natural on all such occasions, to fill in all idle moments by filling up one's self with the choice refreshments that had been prepared and which were served by maidens charming and bewitching.

The examination of the apparatus was entirely too fatiguing or else it was the magnitude of the attraction around the tables that drew several of the promising young men of this place to make a rush for the nearest talbe and their break was the signal for others and in a very few minutes the tables filled up, the sandwiches, cake, coffee and ice cream began to disappear rapidly and the young men and maidens began to fill up. It was a pleasant occasion, socially and otherwise.

The gymnasium will prove, from present indications, to be a complete success. The Secretary of the Association, Mr. G W Rees, said on Friday evening that there were now about one hundred and twenty members. The tuition fee for a year's membership is only three dollars. The gymnasium will be open for men every day in the week from 2 to 6 o'clock p. m., and from 7 to 9.45 p. m., except on Tuesday's and Fridays. On the last named days it will be open to ladies from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. None but members admitted at any time.

Medical Value of Wines.

As a general rule the use of wine is not necessary for young persons in good health, breathing country air and not exposed to over work. As, however life advances and the circulation becomes languid, natural red wine used in moderation, becomes an essential article and in many cases absolutely necessary, but it must be the pure product of the grapes. And even in the Eastern States the physician meets large numbers of town people, especially women who cannot digest the food and drinks suited to out-door laboring people. In such cases they resort to the beverage of tea which gives rise to a distressing dyspepsia. The wines produced in New Jersey, especially the Burgundy and the Port Grape Wines from Alfred Speer's Vineyards, at Passaic, are the more reliable and the most sought after by physicians and those who have traveled abroad and known what wines are.

Look to Your Gloves.

Ladies, be careful of the dye in your kid gloves. We read of a beautiful young lady, Miss Jennie Thompson, of St. Paul, the leader of a social circle on the west side, who died of blood poisoning, caused by merely touching a pimple on her chin with one of her gloved fingers. Better wear no gloves at all than run such risks from the poisonous dye stuffs.

Happy Hoosiers.

John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man.' J W Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at W C Keplinger & Co's Drug Store, large bottles 50c and $1.00

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by Physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. Killed on the Rail.

JOSEPH THOMPSON, WHILE MAKING A COUPLING ON THURSDAY NIGHT WAS Caught Between the Bumpers and Crushed.

The Accident Occurred at Snow Shoe Intersection, and the Man was Brought to Bellefonte to Die.

Another sad fatality on the rail. One more widow and four orphans thrown upon the charities of a cold and unfeeling world. Joseph Thompson, a brakeman on a special coal train sent from Tyrone to Bellefonte was caught between the bumpers of the tender and a brick car, while in the act of making a coupling, and so badly crushed that he died in a few hours afterwards. The particulars of this sad affair are as follows:

Owing to the recent blockade of freight matter on the Pennsylvania railroad caused by the illness of so many of the employees, there is now an immense amount of freight to be moved and it became necessary to run an extra coal train from Tyrone to Bellefonte on Thursday night. Joseph Thompson, brakeman, was one of the crew selected to run the train. The train of coal cars was brought through to the nail works at this place and then the engine was run back to Wallace's brick yards between Milesburg and Snow Shoe Intersection, to bring in a car loaded with brick, Joseph Thompson going along as brakeman.

When the engine was backed up to the car Thomspon stood ready to make the coupling. After waiting a reasonable length of time for the signal to go ahead and receiving none the fireman jumped from the engine and ran back. He found Thompson caught with his thighs between the bumpers and crushed so that he could not cry out. He was loosened and a car from the Intersection was obtained on which the unfortunate man was brought to this place and taken to room 43, Bush House. Dr. Harris was summoned and rendered all medical attention possible and a man was secured to attend him.

About half past twelve the clerk, Mr. Fenlon, and the night watchman were summoned as the man appeared much worse and, they had been in the room but a few minutes when he died. It was then 12.45 o'clock at night. Dr. Harris was summoned and, after an examination, suggested that an undertaker be called in and Mr. Hard Harris was sent for. The remains were prepared for burial, enclosed in a handsome casket and sent to Tyrone on the 10.25 train Friday morning.

Joseph Thompson was a large, fine-looking man, about 6 feet one inch in height and only about 30 years of age. He was married and had four children, living with his family in Tyrone. The deceased is a Centre countian by birth, being originally from in the vicinity of Milesburg. The accident is an extremely sad one and calls forth sympathy from the entire community for the afflicted wife and children.

W C T U Question Box.

The following interesting questions and answers are reprinted from the Cincinnati Gazette. They were asked and answered at the Crusade Anniversary of the W C T U held at Hillsboro, Ohio, on December 23, 1889,

A question box was opened, the answers being given by Miss Willard:

First—"What relation has the W C T U to politics?

Answer—"We indorse every man who dedicates his vote to God and humanity, and wherever the Republican party stands as they have in Dakota, we stand by and endorse them. We are only committed to the party that stands by our principles, no matter what name, and this stand only have we taken in our State and National Conventions.

"Has the W C T U ever been sectarian?"

Answer—"Catholics, priests, Jewish rabbis and all denominations have set together on our platforms. We conquer through the Cross of Christ.

The next question was: "Will God destroy the gin-shop Himself, or will He work through man?"

Answer—"As the battery is to the little wire of the telegraph, so God is the power behind, and works to all through agencies for reform."

Question—"Can a Christian vote for high license and pray, "Thy Kingdom come?"

Answer—"What we license we protect, I can not see how a christian can vote for high license unless he is morally chloroformed. It has set back temperance reform one generation. It is the devil's counterfeit. Liquor men say, 'work for high license; it is our only salvation.'"

Miss Willard, speaking of the outlook for 1890, said; 'The outlook is good; the up-look is better."

Hannah Whitall Smith says: "Keep your top eye open; it is the sky-light o the soul. The outlook is cheerful, because we are not looking at the waves around, but to Him who walks the waves. More are being aroused to action and more in earnest than ever before the action of Miss Foster."

Miss Willard said: "Because these women want to do a different way, and it is right they should, we bear them no ill will. We shall still carry our white-ribbon emblem of purity and peace. If we are good natured when we agree it is a poor thing if we women can not be good-natured even when we disagree. This outlook, with all its contrarity, will only make us give ourselves more to the uplook. As we go on in reformatory work we build better than we know, and all differences will react for good."

Howard Happenings.

The goose bone prophecy so far has completely failed as the "severe winter weather" has not yet reached us. There is, however, plenty of mud and hard traveling.

The bridge below Howard, which was taken away by the June flood, is again being rebuilt and very soon the public will have the pleasure of crossing the Bald Eagle high and dry. It seems outrageous that a bridge of that size cannot be erected in eight months without working on Sundays.

During the recent high water the race leading to the Howard rolling mill was broken, which put a stop to operations at the mill for several days. Repairs, however, are being made speedily, as Jenkins Bros. and Lingle mean business.

Mr. Will Lucas, Shutt's fireman, had the misfortune to have his arm badly cut on the "edger." Will, be careful where you throw your arm hereafter.

A great many of our citizens are afflicted with the grippe. Joseph B. Hall and his daughter, Ellie, have been under Dr. Hensyl's care for some time. We are glad to know that they are convalescing.

Mrs. Meese, who has been ill for some time, is still very feeble.

Miss Anna Wetzler, from Milesburg, who has been visiting in Howard, returned home Monday evening.

Miss Sallie Lucas and Miss Jennie Pletcher spent Sunday at Beech Creek.

—Last night was a good one to sit beside a warm stove, particularly if there was a pretty girl nearby.

—The clergymen of the state will be pleased to learn that the Pennsylvania railroad company has restored the rule, abrogated some years ago, under which they were enabled to travel at reduced rates of fare. Clerical orders will now be issued to clergymen not engaged in other occupations bearing compensation who are regular pastors of churches located on the line of the road, on application to the ticket agent residing nearest to their residence. The certificate will cover the entire year, and will entitle the holder to tickets at the rate of two cents a mile for the distance traveled. Ministers do a good deal of traveling, and they will appreciate this favor

A HUNGARIAN SHOT.

TWO HUNGARIANS SHOOTING MARK WHEN THE ONE, BY REQUEST, MADE

A Target of His Companion,

Who Made a Good Mark but Failed to Stop the Bullet in Time and now there will be a Funeral.

A telephone dispatch to this paper from Snow Shoe states that two Hungarians, named Stachick and Mike Bordner, were engaged in target practice near that town about five o'clock on Thursday afternoon. The board which they had stuck up for a mark to shoot at fell down and Stachick went to put it up. While there and in the act of stooping down to more properly and securely adjust the board he jestingly called to his companion "if he didn't think he would make a good mark?"

"Yes," replied Bordner.

"Try it once" called back Stachick.

No sooner had the words escaped his lips than there was a report and Stachick fell mortally wounded and in a very short time was dead. Bordner claims the shooting as accidental, that he merely raised the weapon for pretense and that it was accidentally discharged. Be that as it may, a hearing should be given and a punishment of some kind for such criminal carelessness as that.

The man who did the shooting has left Snow Shoe and the authorities are now searching for him. An inquest was held on Thursday night about 10 o'clock and a verdict of criminal carelessness rendered.

Unionville Items.

Wednesday morning was the coldest of the present winter—10 degrees below zero.

Grippe continues its hold upon many of our citizens. T E Griest and others are confined to the house. R E Cambridge has succumbed to its sniffling, sneezing grasp, and closed his school in the borough.

L B Bathurst has improved his property on main street by the addition of a stable, coal and wood house.

Walter Lucas was home to visit his parents on Sunday. He is engaged in firing on an engine on the Clearfield and Beech Creek railroad.

E M Lucas was out in the lumber regions of Moshannon and Forge Run a few days ago, and on his return reported the Jones Lumber Co. busy and bustling at their mill on Big Moshannon at the mouth of Forge Run. They have built a railroad about 7 miles up the run and put a "Dinkey" engine on it to haul logs down to the mill.

R T Comley is kept pretty busy hauling supplies to Shaw and Merrill's camp on Black Moshannon creek.

While some other localities in our county are claiming raw material and general advantages for the manufacturer, it must not be forgotten that our town is in a beautiful valley, only eight miles from the county seat, and surrounded with iron ore, lime stone, abundance of red brick and potter's clay, timber to support a match factory and the chances are good for a furniture dealer, undertaker and coachmaker. A large brick stack left standing by the burnt tannery is ready for use.

We have cheap freight rates now, having a first class station and agents' commission abolished.

Capital and push might accomplish much. J.

THE ELECTION OF CONSTABLES.

The Opinion of President Judge, A O Furst, As Recently Handed Down.

By request Judge Furst has given the following opinion of the election of Constables under the Act of February 14, 1889.

The act is as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c. That the qualified voters of every borough and township, and when a borough is divided into wards, and every ward in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, shall on the third Tuesday of February next, and triennially thereafter, vote for and elect a properly qualified person for constable, in each of said districts, who shall serve for three years.

SECTION 2. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

APPROVED—the 14th day of February, A D 1889.

JAMES A BEAVER.

By the provisions of this act constables are to be elected for the period of three years. The act provides that the qualified votes of every borough and township, and when a borough is divided into wards, of every ward in the Commonwealth, shall on the third Tuesday of February next and triennially thereafter, vote for and elect a proper qualified person for constable in each of said districts, who shall serve for three years.

This act, like every other act of Assembly, must speak from the date of its approval by the Governor. The act was approved on the second Tuesday of February, 1889. The spring election following it occurred in one week thereafter. At the time of that election the provisions of this act were generally unknown.

The act makes provision for the election of constables in every ward of the several boroughs in this Commonwealth. This provision was not complied with and could not have been at the last election for want of proper time to give the notice required by law. There are many boroughs in the Commonwealth which have but one constable for the entire borough.

The difficulty in the construction of the act of Assembly arises upon the word "next." This word, as used, is an adjective qualifying "February." If it proceded the word it qualifies the sense of the act then would be made clear and manifest. The act then would read—on the 3d Tuesday of next February, which would be in the year 1890.

This is the construction we give to this act of Assembly, and it follows therefore, that constables elected in 1889 were elected for the term of one year only, and that at the coming election in February next, constables must be elected under this act for every township and ward of a borough to serve for the term of three years.

—The members of Bellefonte Assembly, No. 2333, Knights of Labor have still some copies of the last issue of the Journal of the Knights of Labor on hand and which they will give free to any person desiring one. This paper contains a full report of the speeches delivered and full text of the treaty of agreement on the federation between the Farmers Alliance and the Knights of Labor, together with an article on ballot reform by T. V. Powderly. There is some very weighty reading in this number of that paper and it will be of advantage to every laboring man to read and study it thoroughly. Ask any member of the order and they will give you a paper.

J. Fleming Montgomery.

The death of J. Fleming Montgomery, which occurred at Howard on Friday at 11 o'clock, and which was briefly noticed in this paper yesterday, was occasioned by a combination of pleurisy and paralysis, superinduced by old age, Mr. Montgomery being about seventy-three years of age. The funeral will take place on Monday, meet at the house at 11 o'clock. Interment will be made at Jacksonville, the procession to leave the house as soon as possible after a short service.

Three Items from Millheim.

Mrs. William H Weaver is on the sick list this week. She is lying very low at present with the heart disease.

The lot whereon the Evangelical parsonage is built has been filled up the past week, and it very much improves the appearance of that property.

Mr. A Sternberg, of Bellefonte, has recently opened up a clothing store in the Musser building, opposite the Evangelical church in this place. He keeps on hand a large stock of men's and boy's clothing.

Indications during the summer have been for dresses with low cut necks, but with the display of winter fashions high collars are discovered to be still in vogue

As usual red will take a prominent place among colors for street costumes this Winter, the deep terra-cotta shades having the preference.

The directoire style is entirely out of favor with the dressmakers, but they show a polonaise in its place which is short, like a bodice in front and long in the back.

"O, ah, let me see, what do you give for a cold on the chest?" asked Jones, in a sort of indifferent tone, of a doctor with whom he was slightly acquainted, as he met him on the street. "Advice," was the laconic reply. So do we. We advise you not to neglect that hacking cough and drowsy feeling, the coated tongue, the failing appetite, the indigestion and general lassitude and debility—that "tired feeling," as so many express it. Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in time, and it will not disappoint. It is not only the most wonderful alterative, or blood-cleanser, known to medical science, but also possesses superior nutritive and tonic or strength-giving properties. For Bronchial, Throat and Lung Diseases, accompanied with lingering coughs, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is absolutely unequaled as a remedy.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Short Breath, Consumptive Night-sweats, and kindred affections, it surpasses all other medicines. It's the only lung remedy, sold by druggists, guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or money refunded.

VINEGAR BITTERS

TEGETABLE — FREE FROM ALCOHOL — PURELY — DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA — VINEGAR BITTERS

GRANDEST - MODERN - DISCOVERY
Triumph of Pharmacy
The only true practical
ELIXIR OF LIFE AND HEALTH.

is one that promotes digestion, improves the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken alike by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c, produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

Vinegar Bitters is a pure tonic, a nervine without being narcotic, a purifier without poison, a liver tonic without purging, and above all, a life-giving stimulant without alcohol. The only medicine with such powers in the world.

A GENUINE TEMPERANCE BEVERAGE, far surpassing alcohol in any shape as a tonic it might be called LIQUID LIFE;
since it stimulates, invigorates and regulates digestion, nutrition, secretion, excretion, respiration, and all the functions whereby life is maintained—we literally take in vitality in spoonsful.

It istoo much to assert that the equal of Vinegar Bitters does not exist, and no counterpart or compound with similar virtues has ever been known.

CALIFORNIA,
if remarkable for nothing else, would be immortalized by the production of the medicinal fruits, roots and herbs of which this Bitters is composed. Many of them used by the Indians and the medical profession in the treatment of chills and fevers, rheumatism, catarrh, consumption, neuralgia, headaches, liver complaint, kidney disease, jaundice, gout, piles, boils, skin diseases, &c., &c., too numerous to mention, but easily understood when the action of the Bitters on the vital functions is remembered. The discovery was partly accidental but the present
PERFECT BITTERS IS THE RESULT OF SCIENCE.

Millions of sufferers have gratefully and gladly endorsed, during the past quarter of a century the wonderful success of this PHENOMENAL TONIC OF THE WORLD.

In order to meet every probable demand, two formulas of the same ingredients are now put up.
THE OLD STYLE IS STRONGER, SLIGHTLY BITTER, AND MORE CATHARTIC.
THE NEW STYLE, PLEASANT TO THE TASTE, AND EXPRESSLY ADAPTED TO DELICATE WOMEN AND CHILDREN.
REMEMBER,
There is no disease of low vitality, debility of functions, or nervous prostration for which
VINEGAR BITTERS IS NOT CURATIVE, and its singular power over the lower organisms renders it the implacable foe of
THE DEADLY MICROBE AND OMNIPRESENT BACTERIA in malarial diseases, cholera, consumption, internal diseases, &c., and so great is its power as a germicide that it is an UNEQUALLED VERMIFUGE.

A book could be written of its virtues, and another of testimonials, but it is only necessary to remember its general action upon the liver, blood, brain and nerves, to realize its use in a majority of the ills that flesh is heir to, and that no family should ever be without a bottle of
OLD AND NEW STYLE VINEGAR BITTERS IN THE HOUSE.

—Two things a man should not get angry at: What he can help and what he cannot help.

—The American Mechanics cleared about $70 at their supper in Bush Arcade on Saturday night.

—Judge Thomas Riley will, at his first regular session of court, have a murder trial to pass judgment upon.

—Hundreds of people in Bellefonte to-day and will be all week, attracted here by the impending murder trial.

—Enoch Hastings, of Beech Creek, received his commission on Saturday evening as postmaster at that place.

—The Renovo Evening News has again lost its editor. Dan Brower, of Lock Haven, has resigned and gone home.

—Prof. George P. Bible will give one of his characteristic entertainments in Curwensville on the evening of the 31st inst.

—The green house of Mr. F. P. Ball of Lock Haven, was destroyed by fire on Friday night. Loss $1000, with very little insurance.

—Remember that Mr. Zeigler is the only authorized agent for Bellefonte for "Heroes of the Dark Continent, or Stanley in Africa." Give him your order.

—They have them bad in Tyrone. Rats, we mean, On Sunday night they eat off a water pipe in a house owned by A C Fye and the result was a flooded house.

—The young men of Bellefonte are at present laboring under serious difficulties. The young ladies and fair damsels have all got the grip.—Lock Haven Express. Give us a rest.

—After all is said and done, what has Nellie Bly accomplished, from a seintific point of view, by her journey around the world in seventy-two days? Nothing, absolutely nothing, only to advertise the World

—J. F. Ross, a resident of Harrisburg was knocked off a freight car by a coal tipple near this place, on Saturday, and was badly cut on the forehead. He was taken to the Altoona hospital where his injuries were dressed.

—The Voice, the prohibition organ printed in New York, is offering to give to every subscriber an exact reproduction of the famous painting "The Angelus." This is certainly a very remarkable offer and one that many will, no doubt, avail themselves of.

—Among the pension certificates issued on Saturday are the following: Boliver Haynes, father of Lorenzo D. Hartsock, Martha Furnace. As original invalids Thomas J. VanGleason, of Philipsburg; and Cyrus Strickland, of Bellefonte, have been granted an increase.

—Gregg Post, No. 95, department of Pennsylvania, G. A. R., for the last few years have held, on the 22nd day of February, (Washington's birthday) an entertainment of some kind for the purpose of raising money for the Relief fund, and to keep up the custom they propose to do the same this year.

—Michael Fetterhoff, who resides in Huntingdon, but who has for some time been employed as a carpenter at State College on the new buildings being erected there, received a slight attack of paralysis on Saturday. —Here is a good rat story: Two little boys of Fred Decker, who lives in College township, has within the past two months, caught and killed 287 of these offensive and destructive rodents. The little rascals were all caught by the use of home manufactured wooden traps. Who can present an equal showing in the line of rat catching.

—It is the eighth wonder of the world that a young lady can sit around the house all day with a piece of red flannel wrapped around her throat, nursing her influenza, and in the evening dress up to see her beau, the healthiest woman in existence. It is only to be explained by the fact that the love grip is stronger than "la grippe."

—Mrs. Nora A., wife of Mr. James W. H. Brown, of Williamsport, but formerly of Lock Haven, died in the former city at 7 o'clock on Monday morning. Mrs. Brown was the wife of Mrs. Kyle McFarlane's brother. Her maiden name was Miss Nora Raub, she being a daughter of Prof. Raub, a former principal in the Lock Haven Normal. The lady frequently visited in Bellefonte and had many friends in this place who will hear of her death with deepest sorrow.

JANUARY SESSIONS.

OF THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF CENTRE COUNTY OPENED AND

Business Begun in Downright Earnest.

Constables' Reports Heard—Petitions Presented—Grand Jury Sworn—Several Cases Called and Tried.

January court commenced on Monday morning and the business rushed through. All the reports and petitions heard and adjudged. The grand jury find true bills and several cases have gone to trial, while one or two have been decided, but nothing very important yet reached.

MONDAY MORNING SESSION.

The January term of Centre county's court was opened this morning at 10 o'clock with Judges Furst, Rhoades and Riley on the bench and a small attendance present.

The principal business of the morning was the hearing and disposing of petitions and applications which were presented by C M Bower, C P Hewes, W F Reeder, J W Gephart, D F Fortney, W E Gray, Clement Dale, Will Singer.

The license of D J Myer, of the Centre Hall Hotel was transferred to Mr. Bartges.

The grand jury was called and Isaac Frain was sworn as foreman and Judge Furst spoke a short time giving a few instructions to the grand jury. His Honor said that throughout the county ordinary crime had diminished, the crime of murder had sprung up and such a case would come before the present grand jury and should be carefully considered,

The jury then retired to the grand jury room in charge of Mr. Dawson.

The reports of the constables of the several townships and boroughs of the county were then presented. The court said that constables elected last year were under the construction given the law in this county, elected for only one year. As the coming election the constables will be elected for a term of three years. Each township or ward shall elect a constable.

Court adjourned at 11 o'clock until 2 o'clock p. m.

MONDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

Court crowded at 2 o'clock and several petitions, returns, reports, etc., were presented, considered and judged by the court.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Thos. W Searson, f and b was the first one called. W E Gray appeared for the defendent. A jury was impanelled and the case was at once put to trial. Both parties in interest live in Boalsburg. The District Attorney opened the case and the evidence of the parties was then heard. As there was no other witnesses the evidence soon closed and the counsel for both parties made short addresses, the judge gave his charge and the jury retired. They soon brought in a verdict which was "guilty.'. Searson was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and cost of prosecution, pay the plaintiff $30 and $1 per week for the maintenance of the child until it is seven years old. To enter bond of $500 for the payment of fine, cost, etc., and to stand committed until the sentence was complied with.

In the case of Commonwealth vs W H Young for stealing money from a Hungarian, the grand jury found a true bill. Young plead guilty in open court and gave a statement of the circumstances of the case. Never was arrested before. Does not drink hard. Worked for Collins. Was drunk when I committed the deed. Have a wife and one child. Clement Dale, the attorney for the defense, asked a few questions and the District Attorney stated the facts in the case, which have been printed in this paper, and said he was able to prove all should the case go to trial. Mr. Dale asked the leniency of the Court as also did Lawyer Love. The Court instructed the Sheriff to bring Young into court at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning for to be sentenced.

The case of Commonwealth vs, Wallace Cantner, Alfred E Everett, Thos. Witmyer, Alvin Eusenhuth, Chester Karstetter, George Baldorf, and Frank Lukenbach, charged with disturbing religious meetings, was, on account of the absence of important witnesses, continued until Tuesday morning.

Grand jury found true bill aginst Michael Fennecy, James Convoy, John Jamison and Hugh McGraib, charged with resisting police officers. Chief of Police Garis and officer Folk appeared as prosecutors. District Attorney Meyer, Clement Dale and J L Spangler were the attorneys for the Commonwealth, while Wilbur F Reeder appeared for defendants. Six men were challenged in the selection of a jury. Clement Dale addressing the jury, gave the facts of the case, as the prosecution expected to prove.

Joshua Folk sworn—I live in Bellefonte and am a police officer. On the night of January 11, a crowd of puddlers were on the street and one of them named "Sandy" was using bad language and making a big noise. I warned him to keep quiet several times, but he became still more noisy. I then arrested him and was taking him to the lock-up. (At about this point Folk wanted to tell the whole story of how he was thrown over the railing at the creek but was asked to get down to the case concerning the Thomas street affair.) I then followed "Sandy" and Thompson to Thomas street, I saw Brack Powell, a colored man, who told me the man had a knife, I finally overtook him, when Thompson made a plunge at me with his knife. I told him I would shoot if he came near me again. He again tried to use his knife when I shot him in the shin, about nine inches above the ankle. I then pursued "Sandy" but he escaped. I had seen Thomson put the knife in his hip pocket, after I shot him and as I was searching him for it, Chief Garis came up and I told him we must have the knife, As we were trying to find it, the crowd of puddlers came up and overpowered us, crying, "you've shot an innocent man, we'll lynch you!" I was holding Thompson as my prisoner, but the crowd forced me back from the man. They cried to get a doctor and I said I would see about a doctor and if I had violated any law I was amenable to the law. When I tried to go for a doctor they cried "kill him!" "get a rope, lynch him!" and similar threats; Jamison, one of the puddlers, caught me by the neck, saying, "I've got him, we'll lynch him." Garis broke his mace over Jamison's head.

Garis was also assaulted, and I hit a man who had him by the neck and we finally freed ourselves. I drew my revolver and under cover of it, we backed out of the crowd. Eight or ten were engaged in the riot. "Sandy" and Thompson tried to kill me by throwing me over the railing, into the creek, prior to the riot. We secured assistance in Sheriff Cooke, H. H. Montgomery, Col. Amos Mullen, and J. Miles Walker and they went into the crowd and made five arrests.

Cross—examination—"Sandy" and Thompson tried to kill me. They are not indicted in this case. Followed them to Thomas street. Saw no one there but Brack Powell "Sandy" Thompson and myself. It was about 9.30 or ten o'clock. Thompson had a knife. I shot him to save myself. Jamison assaulted me about the head. Garis then hit him on the head with a policeman's club and broke the club. I hit a man who had Garis by the neck. Shot Thompson in the shin, in front. Garis and the others came about the same time. I tried to get the knife from Thompson, when the crowd rushed on me. When Thompson attempted to strike me with the knife, I told him to halt or I would shoot. He came on and I shot him. Jamison tied up Thompson's wound. When I offered to go for a doctor they cried "lynch him!" and made a hostile move at me when I backed out of the crowd with drawn revolver. Fennecy tried to escape when arrested.

Wm. Gares called—Live in Bellefonte am policeman, have been for 5 years. On January 11 Folk arrested "Sandy" when a crowd of puddlers followed them down. They were noisy and insisted that "Sandy should not be locked up. Later heard a shot went to Thomas street, saw Thompson lying on the ground. Tried to search Thompson for knife, but the crowd pushed us away so could not get the knife. I appealed to the men to be quiet and Thompson would be carefully attended to but the crowd cried "lynch him," "kill him," etc. We withdrew from the crowd under cover of Folk's revolver as they were too many for us. Went and got assistance and arrested some of the people. Fennecy was arrested at his boarding place as he was trying to escape he was dressed in shirt and pants. Did not see Brack Powell on Thomas street. Every body seemed to be afraid of the puddlers.

Cross Ex. Folk sent for me to come to his assistance. The puddlers came very soon after I did. Jamison used very bad language and grabbed Folk by throat. I hit Jamison with mace and broke it over his head. The whole gang used threats bad language and tried to assault Folk.

Charles (Brack) Powell sworn—Live on Cheapside. I was going home when the trouble occurred. Heard people running saw them run; heard some one say "give me the knife." Joshua Folk came up and I told him that the men had a knife. Josh told me to come on and I went. Josh said "I want you fellows" or similar words. Josh shot one man and tried to get the other man, but he got away. Heard the pupdlers use threats. Saw them rush on Folk and Gares. Know some of the men. Saw Gares strike the man who had hold of Folk.

Cross-examination—Was not scared. Was there when Josh shot Thompson. The crowd came about five or six minutes after the shooting. Lew McQuistion was the first man I saw coming after the shooting. The puddlers came just after Garis. Garis struck Jamison with mace. Did not see any knife there at all.

At this point court adjourned until Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

TUESDAY MORNING SESSION.

Court opened at 9 o'clock.

John Anderson sworn—Live in Bellefonte, saw the four men on January 11, saw some of them going down the railroad. The whole crowd was going down there about noon. I heard them say that they never were in as bad a town before and they were going to do some body up.

Cross Examination.—It was about noon, as I was going to dinner. Identified one of the defendants as being in the crowd.

Michael Fennecy sworn.—Work at nail works and board at John Whiteman's. I was in Bellefonte on January 11 and was on Thomas street, and went there about ten minutes after Thompson was shot. I went for a doctor and tried three times to get a doctor but they were out. I could not get a doctor and as I went back the last time, I saw Sheriff and Jamison put a man in a carriage. I know Garis, but had nothing to do with him.

Cross Examination.—Came here from Lock Haven. Worked in Harrisburg about three months. Was born in Walls. Have been in Philadelphia, never fought a prize fight. Was arrested once in Harrisburg, for being drunk I was not struck on January 11. I was in barber shop where "Sandy" was arrested, was going down to the railroad, I and my companion when we heard a shot and a man told us a man had been shot so we went up to see who it was and there were about 100 people there. I was away for a doctor when the riot is said to have taken place. Did not see Jamison or any of the others when I first went there.

TUESDAY MORNING SESSION CONTINUED.

Thomas———sworn—Was in Bellefonte and on Thomas street the night of January 11. Heard the shot and went with Fennecy to place of shooting. Fennecy went for doctor. Saw a man have hold of Garis.

Cross-examination—Heard threats and swearing.

Hugh McGraib sworn—Came up town from nail works after dinner. Was on Thomas street when the shooting was done, but not present. Went to the place and found Thompson shot and sitting on door step. Saw no one struck but saw Jamison fall. Saw no one rush on the officers. Saw Jamison put his hand on Folk's shoulder and ask him to get a doctor for Thompson. No additional evidence was elicited on cross-examination,

John Jamison sworn—Worked at nail works for two weeks. Went to Thomas street ten minutes after Thompson was shot. Found his limb bleeding and tied it up. Touched Folk on shoulder and asked him to get a doctor when Garis hit me on the head with his club. When I came to sat beside Thompson where I was fixing his leg when Cooke came up. Did not see any rush made on policeman and did not take hold of Foulk.

Cross-examination—Know and saw "Sandy" arrested. Did not agree to keep him quiet if let go. Did not follow Josh or the crowd down. Heard no threats. Did not take Foulk by throat nor hit Garis. Saw no one hit him Heard a man say he ought to be lynched.

James Conroy sworn—This man's testimony on direct and cross-examination was about the same as McGraib's, the two being together all the time. only that this witness admitted an assault on the officers in which he took no part.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reese sworn—Live at No. 9 Thomas street. Heard confusion on night of January 11th. Saw two men and police. Heard police say "Halt." After the third cry of "Halt," heard a shot. They were walking away and Foulk after them. Saw no assault.

George Harmon sworn—Live on Thomas street. Saw two men go down sidewalk and Foulk after them. Heard cry of "Halt, or I'll shoot." Heard shot.

Cross-examination—Saw no others on the street until Garis came up. Then crowd began to gather. Heard some one say "lynch him." Saw the police back away followed by crowd. Was not out of the house.

Mr. Taggart sworn—Live on Thomas street. Heard a man cry "Halt" three times then shoot.

Cross-examination—People were frightened. Heard no threats. Did not follow the crowd.

G W Cessna sworn—Live on Thomas street. Heard the cry "Halt" as was about to retire. Looked out and saw two men and police with drawn revolver. After shooting one man Foulk went after other man. Garis came up and he and Foulk searched the man for a knife.

Cross-examination—Saw Foulk leave crowd but not with drawn revolver. Did not see "Sandy" or Thompson assault.

John Whiteman, who keeps a boarding house near the nail works, testified that he knew Jamison and Fennecy for a year and the others not so long. The sheriff and Folk came to his house and arrested Fennecy. The reputation of defendants is as good as that of many others in this town.

With this the evidence closed.

Mr. Reeder addressed the jury and plead for about twenty-five minutes. His address was very eloquent and a strong plea throughout for his clients.

Mr. Spangler summed up for the Commonwealth, making one of his usually brilliant and effective arguments and asking for the conviction of defendants.

The Court then briefly charged the jury and they retired to deliberate. Court adjourned until 2 o'clock p. m.

The grand jury ignored a bill against John Orwig, for violation of the liquor law and directed the prosecutor, Richard Fink, to pay costs.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

Court opened at 2 o'clock with a crowded house, Judges Furst, Rhoades and Riley in attendance. The jury in the riot case brought in a verdict of guilty against Hugh McGraib, James Convoy, John Jamison and Michael Fennecy on the second count and all but Fennecy guilty on the third count. Second count was riot and third was resisting Police officer.

The four persons named yesterday, charged with disturbing a religious meeting, plead guilty and case did not come up for trial. They came before Judge Furst, who gave them a talking which they will remember for some time. They were directed to pay costs and the Court then dismissed them.

Lewis Sunday charged with f and b and adultery, plead guilty and was fined $25., costs of prosecution, pay to Mary C. Bechtol, the prosecutor, the sum of $30, and to pay $1.00 per week for the maintenance of the child and furnish $500 bond to do so. For the crime of adultry he was sentenced to one years imprisoment in County jail.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. John Thompson, charged with assault and battery and aiding a prisoner to escape, was next called. District Attorney Meyers and J L Spangler conducted the prosecution and Wilbur F. Reeder appeared for the defendant. Spangler opened the case in an address to the jury.

Joshua Folk sworn—On night of January 11 man named "Sandy" with his crowd, was making a big noise and I warned "Sandy" to keep quiet. Arrested "Sandy" for drunkenness and disorderly conduct and I started for the lock up. He struck me, when near the dam, on Water street, and I called on Thompson to assist me to lock him up as I did not want to abuse him. Thompson said, "I will," but instead of doing so, he and "Sandy" threw me over the fence and I fell on the rocks. I scrambled out as soon as possible and pursued the man.

John Miller was called and testified to having seen Folk and his prisoner on their way to the lock up. Saw Thompson going in the same direction.

Cross Examination.—Knew "Sandy" by sight, but never saw Thompson before that night.

John Dunlap sworn.—Live in Bellefonte. He testified that on January 11 while on his way to the drug store, saw two men running across the bridge, heard one call the other "Sandy" and say they must get away as they had disposed of one man. Commonwealth rests.

John Thompson the defendant called. Came to Bellefonte the day I was arrested. Saw Joshua Folk that night several times. I did not know "Sandy" personally but knew him by sight. He, "Sandy," was arrested and taken down street. About 9.30 left the Diamond and started for home, going down by the railroad. I was alone. Have not seen "Sandy" since his arrest. Did not see Garis by the bridge. Did not go up the creek. Did not assault Folk or never touched him. Was not near the place where Folk was assaulted.

Cross Examination.—Witness denied saying anything to any of the officers. Was alone all evening, except when I spoke to a friend or two. Testimony not shaken. Wilbur Reeder, for defense, and J C Meyer, for prosecution, summed up in short speeches after which Judge Furst charged the jury and it retired to deliberate. Thompson was found guilty as indicted.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. William Beck, charged with assault and battery, Will Gray appeared for defendant, while J C Meyers acted as prosecuting attorney. Henry Gross was also indicted but has not yet been arrested. George W. Campbell, of Milesburg, the prosecutor, was called and stated that Beck had threatened him, also that both Gross and Back had assaulted him. Kicking and striking him. David Wyland came up and remonstrated with the men, Witness stated that he was badly used up but able to walk home.

Cross-examined.—Don't know where Henry Gross is now. Never had any ill feeling against him. No one but Gross and Beck were present during the assault.

David Wyland of Milesburg, testified that he arrived on the scene of the fight, when it was nearly over. Saw Gross kicking Campbell. Beck was standing near and told Gross to hit Campbell.

W H Beck, of Milesburg, defendant. testified to knowing George Campbell for about 15 years. Gross is a brother-in-law and bad feeling existed between him and Campbell for about six years. Henry Gross made the remark which Campbell says Beck made. I was 50 feet away when I heard a tussle and I went back and found Gross and Campbell fighting. I never laid hands on Campbell and was not closer than 10 feet at Murder Most Foul.

AT GREENBRIAR ON TUESDAY MORNING A WOMAN QUARRELS WITH HER FATHER-IN-LAW AND

Plunges A Knife in His Heart.

Two Women and one Man Arrested and Lodged in Jail in this Place. A Devlish Deed.

At 9.30 o'clock on Tuesday morning, Andrew Weaver, of Greenbriar, was stabbed to the heart and killed, and all evidence point direct to his daughter-in-law. Several parties have been arrested and lodged in jail and an examination is now in progress,

Centre county is certainly in the front ranks. On September 22nd W Seely Hopkins shot and killed his wife and mother-in-law and on November 29th he was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged. While his trial was in progress or on November 27th, a dastardly crime and brutal murder was committed at Karthaus, and to-day Alfred Andrews is put on trial charged with being the perpetrator of that horrible deed. And now with strange coincidence, another brutal murder has been committed. Verily it is time to adopt a punishment that will call a halt. The particulars of this last tragedy are about as follows;

Andrew Weaver, Sr., the man who was killed, lived in a small hut with Mrs. Susan Auman and her son, Jonas. The woman who is charged with the murder is Fietta Weaver, a daughter of Mrs. Susan Auman and who is married to Andrew Weaver, Jr., a son of the man that was killed, and who lived with her husband in a small house about four rods from the Auman hut.

On Tuesday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock, Andrew Weaver, Sr., charged Fietta Weaver with stealing some of his things and requested her to return them or he would go after them. Fietta denied the charge and the quarrel became hot. This was at the Auman house. Mrs. Weaver then went home and soon after the old man, Mrs. Auman and her son went out in the lot and then saw Mrs. Weaver feeding the hogs. Old man Weaver, according to the testimony at the inquest given by Mrs. Weaver and the Auman's, then started for Mrs. Weaver and threw three stones at her. She retreated into her house but caught fast in the doorway and there the old man overtook her. He grabbed her and a scuffle ensued in which Mrs. Weaver was thrown down but soon freed herself and went in and closed the door. This is all the Auman's would testify to their having seen. Mrs. Weaver says the old man drew out his own pocket knife and threatened to kill her or himself, but fell down and then she fled, and that she did not know he was dead until told at the Squire's. The woman's husband was out in the woods at work at the time and the only person in the room was a two year old baby.

On examination of Weaver's body it was found that he had been stabbed by a knife as large as a butcher knife and that it was plunged through all his clothing, below the left arm and into the heart. When found a pocket knife with only a small blade was found between the vest and shirt of Mr. Weaver. It was not possible that the wound could have been inflicted with that knife.

Information was at once sent to Justice of the peace J P Garthoff, of Coburn, who repaired to the place and impaneled a jury, who, after viewing the body and hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of murder and charged it to Mrs. Weaver; a warrant was procured and Constable Mensch, of Millheim, arrested Mrs. Weaver, on the charge, and Mrs. Auman and her son, as accomplices, and all three were brought to Bellefonte on the 5.15 train Tuesday evening and lodged in jail here. About one thousand people assembled at the depot to witness the arrival of the prisoners.

THEIR SEVERAL RECORDS.

Andrews, the murdered man, was about 65 years old and is said by those who knew him to have been a quiet, inoffensive old man. His body now lies in the Auman hut where a post mortem was made Wednesday by Dr. C S Musser of Aaronsburg, by request of J C Meyer, district attorney, and under authority of Squire Gathroff, of Coburn.

Mrs. Weaver has been described as a "Holy terror," and a bad character generally. She was all the time quarreling with some one and, it is alleged, that she has been guilty of grave crimes before this, as two illegitimate children of hers disappeared in a strange and unaccountable way. She has yet two living, one thirteen and one between two and three. Mrs. Weaver is about 34 years old, Mrs. Auman is 57 years of age and Jonas is 25.

MARRIED.

WALIZER—BARTLEY.—At Salona, Pa., on Monday, January 20th, 1890, by the Rev. H. A. Dietterich, William W. Walizer, of Mackeyville, Clinton county, and Miss Jenetta B. Bartley, of Hublersburg, Centre county.
